Ike Points Out Places To Cut Record Budget

Information Fund Cut Seen As Possibility

President Headed Toward Contest With Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower appeared headed today toward a contest with the Senate's Democratic leadership over funds for the U. S. Information Agency.

Sen. Mansfield of Montana, acting Democratic leader, predicted the Senate not only will sustain a 26 per cent slash voted in USIA funds by the House Wednesday but will cut deeper into the agency's remaining $106 million budget for the year beginning July 1.

Eisenhower said at his news conference Wednesday the USIA's job of telling the world about America should be increased. He said cutting USIA funds "is the worst kind of economy that would possibly be practiced."

Mansfield said, "That is what the President has been saying about every cut in his budget."

"The USIA is spreading like an octopus all over the world," he said.

* * *

SEN. MUNDT (R-SD) said there is support for Voice of America radio broadcasts, for the foreign student leadership exchange program and for maintenance of U.S. libraries abroad, but added:

"There is a lot of opposition to projects to support international fairs, to send actors and bands abroad and to the motion picture program. There is strong opposition to continuing the agency's news service."

The House-approved money bill carries a total of $563,799,793 for USIA, the State and Justice departments and the judiciary. The total was $101,850,009 below the amount Eisenhower had asked.

New Drugs May Prevent Heart Attack

CHICAGO (AP) — Drugs holding promise of preventing heart attacks now are in a second stage of testing, scientists report.

They have passed their first test on animals. The second step is trials on human tissues.

They are chemicals which in animals show ability to prevent or dissolve the artery plugs causing heart attacks. One class of these drugs is salts of vanadium, a heavy metal.

The work was described to the Federation of American Socieites of Experimental Biology by Doctors Daniel L. Azarnoff, George L. Curran and William P. Williamson of the University of Kansas Medical Center.

Heart attacks come because arteries supplying blood to the heart machine become narrowed or blocked by plugs of fatty material which you get in many foods, and which your body also makes.

Feeding vanadium salts to animals has depressed natural production of cholesterol, Dr. Curran and associates have reported. The vanadium drugs also apparently could dissolve away some plugs which already had formed.

Egyptians 'Reject' U. S. Suez Proposal

CAIRO (AP) — The newspaper Al Akhbar said today Egypt has rejected a U. S. proposal that Egypt and the United States join in submitting the Suez question to the U. N. Security Council.

Al Akhbar said the United States asked Egypt to join in the action so that both sides might report on progress achieved thus far in talks in Cairo.

President Eisenhower told his news conference in Washington Wednesday the United States had decided to delay handing the Suez problem to the council. Eisenhower said talks in Cairo have made progress and hinted Egypt might offer new concessions.

Ex-Postmistress Gets Short Term

COLUMBUS (AP)—Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood has sentenced Mrs. Blanche L. Geiger, former postmistress at Lakeview, Ohio, to one hour in the custody of the U.S. marshal, after a two-day trial here.

Mrs. Geiger was charged with embezzling from the mails.

Judge Underwood said "I'm not convinced she is a criminal" after he imposed the sentence. The jury had recommended leniency.

Curtailment Order Rescinded

Postoffice Service Is Back to Normal

Service at the Washington C. H. Postoffice today is getting back to normal. Barring any unforeseen developments, by Saturday, it will be just like it was before nationwide economy cutback ordered by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield went into effect last Saturday.

This was the way Postmaster Clark Wickensimer summed up the situation here Thursday morning after he received a bulletin from the Post office Department in Washington rescinding the service curtailment orders issued about two weeks ago.

Postmaster Wickensimer said the windows in the office will be open as usual Saturday, that there will be the regular mail deliveries, that third class mail will be accepted and that there will be money order service.

Last Saturday all of these services were eliminated as the economy cutback went into effect.

Windows service in the office also will go back on the old schedule of 8 a. m. until 6 p. m. Under the cutback order, they opened at 8:30 a. m. and closed at 5 p. m. Wickensimer said the bulletin stipulated that this schedul would remain in effect unless shorter hours were ordered by the district manager of the postal service.

* * *

THE CURTAILMENT of service was ordered when Congress refused to grant the postmaster general's request for the entire $47 million he had asked to continue operations until June.

The order was rescinded when President Eisenhower signed a supplemental appropriation bill providing $41 million for the Postoffice Department. The bill was rushed through Congress in two days after the country curtailed service had jolted the country Saturday.

Postmaster Wickensimer said a flood of calls had come into the office here last Saturday from people who wanted to know whether service would be curtailed. But, he added, after that few calls had come in.

There was some criticism of the restricted service, he admitted, but said it was not directed at the office here. "Everyone seemed to understand," he commented, "that there was nothing we could do about it here".

Foreign Pilgrims Tour Holy Land

JERUSALEM (AP) — Foreign pilgrims began gathering in Jerusalem today for visits to holy places over the Easter weekend.

Groups of 34 from Denmark, 30 from Italy and 20 priests mostly from Canada arrived at the Israeli port of Haifa Wednesday.

This year's easter tourist season is the poorest in years. Only about 1,500 foreigners had arrived in Israel or Jordan by Monday to make the pilgrimage to the holy places. Last year the number was 15,000.

The slump is attributed to the tense Middle East situation.

Gyro Perfected To Guide Planes Or Missiles

Invention Unaffected By any Interference, Scientists Say

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Scientists at Massachusetts Institute of Technology have unveiled a heretofore secret invention which they say can guide any craft or missile to any specified spot on earth, free from enemy interference.

The invention, called "Inertial Guidance," already has flown a B29 bomber from Boston to Los Angeles.

The MIT scientists said, in unveiling Inertial Guidance Wednesday, that it operates without magnetic compass, radio or radar and without a glimpse of the earth, the sun or the stars. They said it needs no electronic signal or radar beam and therefore can't be jammed by enemy aparatus.

The developers explained that the heart of the system is a completely free - floating gyroscope sealed in a four-inch cylinder about the size of a tomato can.

They added that the extremely complicated mechanism always remains aimed in a fixed position in relation to the universe independent of the earth's motion. They said it can't be affected by other natural phenomena such as weather, sunspots and magnetic influences or polar flights.

THE GYRO WHEEL, spinning at 12,000 revolutions per minute, floats in a fluid and pivots on virtually frictionless sapphire bearings. The wheel is described as "a major breakthrough in the field of gyro technology." The scientists indicated it might be of very great importance in outer space flight.

The system is being applied to flight and fire control as well as navigation. The MIT scientists have developed military applications for all three uses.

Inertial Guidance resulted from experiments begun in 1939 by Dr. Charles S. Draper, head of the MIT department of aeronautical engineering, who headed a group at MIT which developed the Mark XIV gunsight. The gunsight, in its first battle test, destroyed 32 attacking Japanese planes.

Patrolman Hurt In Gun Mishap

TOLEDO (AP)—A .38 caliber pistol, accidentally fired as he sat in a police cruiser, critically wounded Patrolman Irving Sawn, 32, Wednesday night.

Sawn had remarked that the hammer on his pistol was stuck. The gun discharged as he handed it to another policeman for inspection.

9 Men Missing As Barge Upsets

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An overturned oil drilling barge concealed the fate of nine missing crewmen today as grim workmen prepared to enter the dome-like hull.

The barge capsized Wednesday in the Gulf of Mexico while under tow near the mouth of the Mississippi. Rescuers picked up six members of the 15-man crew.

The rig overturned about three miles offshore in 28 feet of water.

None of the survivors could give a reason for the capsizing, although workmen said some pipe aboard may have shifted and caused it to topple over.

News in Brief

Red Eyes Bug At Yank Plane

MOSCOW (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen left Moscow today on a plane so big it made the Russians gasp. He is flying to the United States en route to a new assignment as ambassador to the Philippines.

Moscow's diplomatic corps overflowed the airport building in a farewell tribute to Bohlen's acknowledged leadership of the Western diplomatic colony during his four years as ambassador.

The Soviet government sent only a protocol officer to see Bohlen off, despite a warm tribute paid the departing envoy Wednesday night by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

A giant U. S. Air Force C124 Globemaster, the United States' biggest troop transport plane, came from Germany to pick up Bohlen, his family, and eight other embassy officials. The plane can carry more than 200 troops.

It was the first trip of a Globemaster to the Soviet capital. The Russians had never seen a plane as big as the 90-ton, double-deck monster, and their eyes popped.

Just to bring its size home to the gaping onlookers, an embassy official backed a fully loaded truck up the ramp into the plane.

COLOMBO (AP) — Two Russians arrived in Colombo today to set up the first Communist embassy in Ceylon.

NICOSIA (AP) — An official announcement today said 27 British servicemen were killed in the crash of a royal air force Valetta transport plane Wednesday at Aqaba, isolated British base in Jordan.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — The Ethiopian government has assured special envoy James P. Richards of "cordial support" for the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli army headquarters said a farm tractor struck a mine today near the Jordan border, close to the spot where two Jewish settlement guards were slain Monday by Arab infiltrators. An army spokesman said the tractor driver was injured and the machine wrecked.

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—Mt. Etna continued to erupt today, spilling a stream of lava slowly down a barren side of the 10,758-foot mountain. Towns far below the volcanic activity, were not in immediate danger. A scientist said the activity began Tuesday night but fog and clouds prevented it from being seen until Wednesday night.

CAIRO (AP)—British and French banks and insurance companies which had been under sequestration were turned over officially today to Egyptian owners. Contracts for sale of the foreign firms were signed Wednesday. The takeover was ordered as part of an Egyptianization program after the British-French invasion of the Suez Canal zone.

CAIRO (AP)—The U. N. information center said today UNEF Commander Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns has lodged five complaints with Israeli authorities concerning violations and incidents in the Gaza Strip since UNEF took up positions there.

The U. N. statement said Burns complained that Israeli soldiers seized cattle from the Gaza Strip-dispatched a number of illegal plane flights over the area; and sent an Israeli patrol across the demarcation line.

Circus Fans See Tiger Kill Tiger

NEW YORK (AP) — Two tigers staged a jungle-style fight to the death before 15,000 spectators in the circus arena at Madison Square Garden Wednesday.

A 7-year-old female royal bengal tiger named Ila, valued at nearly $5,000, was killed by a 4-year-old male named Rajah. The fight lasted three minutes. Ila bled to death while a veterinarian worked over her. Rajah suffered only a few scratches and will stay with the act.

Scranton Union Chieftain Denies Link to Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Durkin, a power in the Scranton, Pa., Teamsters Union, today branded as false testimony linking him with violence.

He protested against being questioned now before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, contending it might prejudice his trial on pending federal charges of taking "kickbacks" and new trial on charges of conspiracy in the dynamiting of a home.

But the graying, 50 - year - old witness, invoked no Fifth Amendment plea. He had invoked the amendment's protection against self-incrimination Wednesday in refusing to tell the committee his occupation — the only question asked him then.

But today Durkin answered the question and challenged the truthfulness of prior witnesses.

He identified himself as secretary-treasurer and business agent of the Teamsters Union Local 229, vice president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and financial secretary of the Central Labor Union in Scranton.

* * *

UNDER QUESTIONING by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), the committee chairman, and Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy, Durkin denied he ever made threatening telephone calls to Arnold Schiavi, Italian bread and pizza baker in Scranton, as Schiavi had testified.

He also denied that he had supplied a stink bomb and ordered it thrown through Schiavi's bakery window, as alleged by Paul Bradshaw, self-styled former strong arm man for the union.

He said he can't understand why, as McClellan put it, "there was so much violence" in the strikes. He said he asked his men about allegations of violence, and they invariably denied they had done it.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate Committee said this may be the last day of the Scranton phase of the committee's search for evidence of racketeering and other wrongdoing in the labor-management field.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said all three are mentioned in the tape recordings made by Paul Bradshaw, a convicted dynamiter, and Bradshaw's pretty woman friend Helen Canfield.

* * *

BRADSHAW, a former Teamster member and key witness in the inquiry, has sworn he is innocent of the May 1, 1954, dynamiting of a home being built by nonunion labor for Andrew Ruby of Scranton. He was convicted of the crime, but says he "took the rap" for the real dynamiters, and that the tape recordings prove this.

He said the blast was ordered by higher union officials and that Durkin among others double crossed him after promising to take care of him financially if he were convicted.

He is awaiting sentence on the charge, and trial on perjury and obstruction of justice counts.

McHugh and Malloy have been indicted on charges of having helped a squad of other labor men to demolish the wall of another building under construction in Scranton.

Bradshaw has specifically accused Malloy of ordering troublesome union members beaten up, and of "rigging" union elections, in which he said some members voted as often as six or seven times.

Bradshaw's sister Mrs. Margaret Kollra testified Wednesday that Durkin told her the men "shouldn't have used dynamite" to wreck the Ruby house, but should have sawed the beams.

Stores To Close Here Two Hours On Good Friday

Most of the stores and offices in Washington C. H. and many in the surrounding towns will be closed Friday from noon until 2 p. m. so the people may attend the Good Friday union service at the First Presbyterian Church here.

Sponsored by the Fayette County Ministerial Assn., the service based on the Seven Last Words of Christ from the Cross will start at noon and continue until 3 p. m.— one hour after the stores reopen.

The service is for everyone in the county, regardless of church affiliation. Ministers of seven churches are to participate. Other churches will be represented by members on the program of special music.

The service will be conducted in seven parts, one for each of the seven last words of Christ. A different minister will be in charge of each of the seven periods of meditation.

Worshippers may enter or leave the church sanctuary during the singing of the hymns without disturbing the atmosphere of reverence or devotion, a spokesman for the Ministerial Assn. said.

Ike Plans Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was to fly south today for another 10-day vacation at the Augusta, Ga., National Golf Club.

Senate, House Deadlocked On Vital Money Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress members faced today the need to untangle a Senate-House snarl over a bitterly disputed money bill before they could get out of town for Easter vacation.

The principal item of concern in the legislation is $275 million of federal grants to states for May and June relief checks to needy aged, dependent children, blind and disabled persons.

Both the Senate and the House have agreed on that provision, but disagreement on other items has blocked action for two months.

Varying versions of the bill bounced back and forth across the Capitol Wednesday.

Acting Senate Democratic Leader Mansfield of Montana said his idea would be for the Senate to stay in Washington ready to settle the dispute.

"If the House members want to take a 10-day recess, that is their responsibility," he said.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower first sent the $350 million deficiency appropriation bill to Congress in January. Both branches passed it in February with the Senate restoring many amounts cut by the House. It has been deadlocked since.

The House suddenly produced Tuesday a second version of the bill and sent it to the Senate with a take-it-or-leave-it tag.

This version left out three key items the Senate wanted, and that branch wrote them in before returning the bill to the House Wednesday afternoon.

The House then ignored the rewritten second version and produced still a third bill which it passed and sent to the Senate.

This stripped-down third version carries only the $275 million for public assistance grants and $56 million for small business loans, plus gratuities for four widows of deceased House members.

But it has a rider limiting to $16,728,000 the federal share of the cost of administering public assistance. Welfare Department officials say this is not enough to meet their obligations.

This is one of the key issues in the dispute on the legislation. Senators contend there should be no such limitation because the Social Security law requires the federal government to pay 50 per cent of the administration costs. They say any change in this should be made by amending the basic law.

About $2 Billion Savings Seen

Resurvey Is Made On Federal Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower spelled out for Congress today how it can cut appropriations by nearly $2 billion, but he still said there can be no "substantial reduction" in actual spending unless Congress revises or repeals some laws.

In a letter to House Speaker Rayburn, the President listed half a dozen places for possible economies of $1,858,000,000.

These, the White House said, might bring about a slash of upto $450 million in spending in the fiscal year starting July 1.

And the President said:

"Given continuation of healthy economic growth and of fixed expenditure control, these figures combined will begin to lay a firm fiscal foundation for the time when we can be sufficiently assured that our income will so exceed our expenses as to justify a reasonable tax cut for every taxpayer while we continue to reduce the government's debt."

* * *

EISENHOWER, however, laid out no timetable for a possible tax reduction.

The President noted that the House had called upon him in a special resolution to point out places in his record $71.8 billion budget where substantial cuts could be made.

He said he had a resurvey made of expenditures of every federal agency in a hunt for more items which properly could be reduced. The points outlined in his letter to Rayburn are the result, he said.

Some requests for appropriations, he said, can be postponed without serious damage to the programs involved. Specifically he mentioned:

1. A $500 million reduction in funds for the military aid part of the mutual security program.

2. A $200 million cut for military public works.

3. A $254 million slash for the Soil Bank program, a cut he already had proposed to Congress.

4. A $50 million reduction in new spending authority for the Federal National Mortgage Assn.

5. A similar $25 million cut for the college housing program.

6. A reduction of $13 million for the Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition Eisenhower said, the House — all appropriations bills originate there—might take a look at the possibility of withholding $516 million for Army procurement and production.

* * *

HE SAID THIS would be at the expense of efficient programming, and merely would postpone the request for the sum for another year.

Eisenhower said another possible reduction of $300 million could be made in the amount budgeted for unexpected expenses of the government.

All these items add up to the $1,858,000,000.

Without the Army procurement and production item, the figure comes to $1,342,000,000.

Eisenhower reminded the House that less than half of this could be reflected in reductions in spending during the next fiscal year.

And he said part of the items would have to be restored in the future.

Eisenhower took note of the budget-cutting drive on which the reductions "will be absorbed wherever possible without serious injury to programs essential to the public interest."

Where this can't be done, he said, h will seek restoration of the needed money. Then he took a dig at the economy wave.

"Some of the House 'cuts' have involved large sums that the executive branch is compelled by law to pay," he said. " 'Cuts' of that kind do not save money and must be later restored through supplemental appropriations unless the governing statutes are revised."

Eisenhower said, though, that he is gratified to note a growing awareness among private citizens that the dollars the federal government spends are their dollars, and that federal benefits aren't free.

Burns Kill Boy, 4

CLEVELAND (AP) — Four-year-old Robert Beas died today of burns received Dec. 29. The boy set fire to his clothing while playing with a Christmas toy.

Ike's Brother, Edgar, Says No Family Breach Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edgar Eisenhower says "a breach in our family is the last thing that could ever develop."

Edgar, the President's older brother, also said Wednesday night: "I want to make it very plain there are no differences between my brothers and me. We can differ on a friendly basis and no rancor is involved."

He caused quite a stir earlier this week when he was quoted as criticizing the size of the President's budget.

When the President was asked Wednesday about this and about reports that Edgar was "disturbed about the liberal influence of Milton and Sherm Adams," he told newsmen good humoredly:

"Edgar has been criticizing me since I was 5 years old."

And in Chicago, Earl Eisenhower, a young brother of the President, said "it's nothing new" for Edgar to be critical. He added that Edgar has "been that way for about 60 years."

"I don't have to agree with him. He has the right of every citizen to say what he pleases," Earl said, adding:

"I'm not going to comment further; I want no part of it."

Earl, 59, is public relations director of a suburban La Grange bi-weekly newspaper.

Edgar Eisenhower, 68, is 22 months older than the President.

Milton Eisenhower, another brother of the President, is head of Johns Hopkins University and sometimes has been consulted on various matters by the chief executive. Sherman Adams is Eisenhower's top aide.

Edgar, a Tacoma, Wash., attorney, attended a White House stag dinner Wednesday night, along with brother Milton and a number of other guests.

Later, he told an interviewer that "Dwight and Milton kiddingly gave me some advice about dealing with the press."

Edgar said the only mention of the budget during the evening came at a family gathering before the dinner when "Dwight made a remark that all expenses have gone up."

"He asked me if the expenses in my office were the same as last year," Edgar said. "I answered I couldn't compare them because I'm moving the office."

When he was asked by a newsman if he had anything more to say about the administration's budget, Edgar replied:

"I want to forget the whole thing as fast as I can."

But he stressed that he hasn't changed his opinion — "not a bit."

Milton Eisenhower has not commented on Edgar's remarks.

9 Men Missing As Barge Upsets

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An overturned oil drilling barge concealed the fate of nine missing crewmen today as grim workmen prepared to enter the dome-like hull.

The barge capsized Wednesday in the Gulf of Mexico while under tow near the mouth of the Mississippi. Rescuers picked up six members of the 15-man crew.

The rig overturned about three miles offshore in 28 feet of water.

None of the survivors could give a reason for the capsizing, although workmen said some pipe aboard may have shifted and caused it to topple over.

Ike's Brother, Edgar, Says No Family Breach Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edgar Eisenhower says "a breach in our family is the last thing that could ever develop."

Edgar, the President's older brother, also said Wednesday night: "I want to make it very plain there are no differences between my brothers and me. We can differ on a friendly basis and no rancor is involved."

He caused quite a stir earlier this week when he was quoted as criticizing the size of the President's budget.

When the President was asked Wednesday about this and about reports that Edgar was "disturbed about the liberal influence of Milton and Sherm Adams," he told newsmen good humoredly:

"Edgar has been criticizing me since I was 5 years old."

And in Chicago, Earl Eisenhower, a young brother of the President, said "it's nothing new" for Edgar to be critical. He added that Edgar has "been that way for about 60 years."

"I don't have to agree with him. He has the right of every citizen to say what he pleases," Earl said, adding:

"I'm not going to comment further; I want no part of it."

Earl, 59, is public relations director of a suburban La Grange bi-weekly newspaper.

Edgar Eisenhower, 68, is 22 months older than the President.

Milton Eisenhower, another brother of the President, is head of Johns Hopkins University and sometimes has been consulted on various matters by the chief executive. Sherman Adams is Eisenhower's top aide.

Edgar, a Tacoma, Wash., attorney, attended a White House stag dinner Wednesday night, along with brother Milton and a number of other guests.

Later, he told an interviewer that "Dwight and Milton kiddingly gave me some advice about dealing with the press."

Edgar said the only mention of the budget during the evening came at a family gathering before the dinner when "Dwight made a remark that all expenses have gone up."

"He asked me if the expenses in my office were the same as last year," Edgar said. "I answered I couldn't compare them because I'm moving the office."

When he was asked by a newsman if he had anything more to say about the administration's budget, Edgar replied:

"I want to forget the whole thing as fast as I can."

But he stressed that he hasn't changed his opinion — "not a bit."

Milton Eisenhower has not commented on Edgar's remarks.

News in Brief

Red Eyes Bug At Yank Plane

MOSCOW (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen left Moscow today on a plane so big it made the Russians gasp. He is flying to the United States en route to a new assignment as ambassador to the Philippines.

Moscow's diplomatic corps overflowed the airport building in a farewell tribute to Bohlen's acknowledged leadership of the Western diplomatic colony during his four years as ambassador.

The Soviet government sent only a protocol officer to see Bohlen off, despite a warm tribute paid the departing envoy Wednesday night by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

A giant U. S. Air Force C124 Globemaster, the United States' biggest troop transport plane, came from Germany to pick up Bohlen, his family, and eight other embassy officials. The plane can carry more than 200 troops.

It was the first trip of a Globemaster to the Soviet capital. The Russians had never seen a plane as big as the 90-ton, double-deck monster, and their eyes popped.

Just to bring its size home to the gaping onlookers, an embassy official backed a fully loaded truck up the ramp into the plane.

COLOMBO (AP) — Two Russians arrived in Colombo today to set up the first Communist embassy in Ceylon.

NICOSIA (AP) — An official announcement today said 27 British servicemen were killed in the crash of a royal air force Valetta transport plane Wednesday at Aqaba, isolated British base in Jordan.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — The Ethiopian government has assured special envoy James P. Richards of "cordial support" for the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli army headquarters said a farm tractor struck a mine today near the Jordan border, close to the spot where two Jewish settlement guards were slain Monday by Arab infiltrators. An army spokesman said the tractor driver was injured and the machine wrecked.

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—Mt. Etna continued to erupt today, spilling a stream of lava slowly down a barren side of the 10,758-foot mountain. Towns far below the volcanic activity, were not in immediate danger. A scientist said the activity began Tuesday night but fog and clouds prevented it from being seen until Wednesday night.

CAIRO (AP)—British and French banks and insurance companies which had been under sequestration were turned over officially today to Egyptian owners. Contracts for sale of the foreign firms were signed Wednesday. The takeover was ordered as part of an Egyptianization program after the British-French invasion of the Suez Canal zone.

CAIRO (AP)—The U. N. information center said today UNEF Commander Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns has lodged five complaints with Israeli authorities concerning violations and incidents in the Gaza Strip since UNEF took up positions there.

The U. N. statement said Burns complained that Israeli soldiers seized cattle from the Gaza Strip-dispatched a number of illegal plane flights over the area; and sent an Israeli patrol across the demarcation line.

Circus Fans See Tiger Kill Tiger

NEW YORK (AP) — Two tigers staged a jungle-style fight to the death before 15,000 spectators in the circus arena at Madison Square Garden Wednesday.

A 7-year-old female royal bengal tiger named Ila, valued at nearly $5,000, was killed by a 4-year-old male named Rajah. The fight lasted three minutes. Ila bled to death while a veterinarian worked over her. Rajah suffered only a few scratches and will stay with the act.

Scranton Union Chieftain Denies Link to Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Durkin, a power in the Scranton, Pa., Teamsters Union, today branded as false testimony linking him with violence.

He protested against being questioned now before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, contending it might prejudice his trial on pending federal charges of taking "kickbacks" and new trial on charges of conspiracy in the dynamiting of a home.

But the graying, 50 - year - old witness, invoked no Fifth Amendment plea. He had invoked the amendment's protection against self-incrimination Wednesday in refusing to tell the committee his occupation — the only question asked him then.

But today Durkin answered the question and challenged the truthfulness of prior witnesses.

He identified himself as secretary-treasurer and business agent of the Teamsters Union Local 229, vice president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and financial secretary of the Central Labor Union in Scranton.

• • •

UNDER QUESTIONING by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), the committee chairman, and Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy, Durkin denied he ever made threatening telephone calls to Arnold Schiavi, Italian bread and pizza baker in Scranton, as Schiavi had testified.

He also denied that he had supplied a stink bomb and ordered it thrown through Schiavi's bakery window, as alleged by Paul Bradshaw, self-styled former strong arm man for the union.

He said he can't understand why, as McClellan put it, "there was so much violence" in the strikes. He said he asked his men about allegations of violence, and they invariably denied they had done it.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate Committee said this may be the last day of the Scranton phase of the committee's search for evidence of racketeering and other wrongdoing in the labor-management field.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said all three are mentioned in the tape recordings made by Paul Bradshaw, a convicted dynamiter, and Bradshaw's pretty woman friend Helen Canfield.

• • •

BRADSHAW, a former Teamster member and key witness in the inquiry, has sworn he is innocent of the May 1, 1954, dynamiting of a home being built by nonunion labor for Andrew Ruby of Scranton. He was convicted of the crime, but says he "took the rap" for the real dynamiters, and that the tape recordings prove this.

He said the blast was ordered by higher union officials and that Durkin among others double crossed him after promising to take care of him financially if he were convicted.

He is awaiting sentence on the charge, and trial on perjury and obstruction of justice counts.

McHugh and Malloy have been indicted on charges of having helped a squad of other labor men to demolish the wall of another building under construction in Scranton.

Bradshaw has specifically accused Malloy of ordering troublesome union members beaten up, and of "rigging" union elections, in which he said some members voted as often as six or seven times.

Bradshaw's sister Mrs. Margaret Kollra testified Wednesday that Durkin told her the men "shouldn't have used dynamite" to wreck the Ruby house, but should have sawed the beams.

Stores To Close Here Two Hours On Good Friday

Most of the stores and offices in Washington C. H. and many in the surrounding towns will be closed Friday from noon until 2 p. m. so the people may attend the Good Friday union service at the First Presbyterian Church here.

Sponsored by the Fayette County Ministerial Assn., the service based on the Seven Last Words of Christ from the Cross will start at noon and continue until 3 p. m.— one hour after the stores reopen.

The service is for everyone in the county, regardless of church affiliation. Ministers of seven churches are to participate. Other churches will be represented by members on the program of special music.

The service will be conducted in seven parts, one for each of the seven last words of Christ. A different minister will be in charge of each of the seven periods of meditation.

Worshippers may enter or leave the church sanctuary during the singing of the hymns without disturbing the atmosphere of reverence or devotion, a spokesman for the Ministerial Assn. said.

Ike Plans Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was to fly south today for another 10-day vacation at the Augusta, Ga., National Golf Club.

Senate, House Deadlocked On Vital Money Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress members faced today the need to untangle a Senate-House snarl over a bitterly disputed money bill before they could get out of town for Easter vacation.

The principal item of concern in the legislation is $275 million of federal grants to states for May and June relief checks to needy aged, dependent children, blind and disabled persons.

Both the Senate and the House have agreed on that provision, but disagreement on other items has blocked action for two months.

Varying versions of the bill bounced back and forth across the Capitol Wednesday.

Acting Senate Democratic Leader Mansfield of Montana said his idea would be for the Senate to stay in Washington ready to settle the dispute.

"If the House members want to take a 10-day recess, that is their responsibility," he said.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower first sent the $350 million deficiency appropriation bill to Congress in January. Both branches passed it in February with the Senate restoring many amounts cut by the House. It has been deadlocked since.

The House suddenly produced Tuesday a second version of the bill and sent it to the Senate with a take-it-or-leave-it tag.

This version left out three key items the Senate wanted, and that branch wrote them in before returning the bill to the House Wednesday afternoon.

The House then ignored the rewritten second version and produced still a third bill which it passed and sent to the Senate.

This stripped-down third version carries only the $275 million for public assistance grants and $56 million for small business loans, plus gratuities for four widows of deceased House members.

But it has a rider limiting to $16,728,000 the federal share of the cost of administering public assistance. Welfare Department officials say this is not enough to meet their obligations.

This is one of the key issues in the dispute on the legislation. Senators contend there should be no such limitation because the Social Security law requires the federal government to pay 50 per cent of the administration costs. They say any change in this should be made by amending the basic law.

About $2 Billion Savings Seen

Resurvey Is Made On Federal Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower spelled out for Congress today how it can cut appropriations by nearly $2 billion, but he still said there can be no "substantial reduction" in actual spending unless Congress revises or repeals some laws.

In a letter to House Speaker Rayburn, the President listed half a dozen places for possible economies of $1,858,000,000.

These, the White House said, might bring about a slash of upto $450 million in spending in the fiscal year starting July 1.

And the President said:

"Given continuation of healthy economic growth and of fixed expenditure control, these figures combined will begin to lay a firm fiscal foundation for the time when we can be sufficiently assured that our income will so exceed our expenses as to justify a reasonable tax cut for every taxpayer while we continue to reduce the government's debt."

• • •

EISENHOWER, however, laid out no timetable for a possible tax reduction.

The President noted that the House had called upon him in a special resolution to point out places in his record $71.8 billion budget where substantial cuts could be made.

He said he had a resurvey made of expenditures of every federal agency in a hunt for more items which properly could be reduced. The points outlined in his letter to Rayburn are the result, he said.

Some requests for appropriations, he said, can be postponed without serious damage to the programs involved. Specifically he mentioned:

1. A $500 million reduction in funds for the military aid part of the mutual security program.

2. A $200 million cut for military public works.

3. A $254 million slash for the Soil Bank program, a cut he already had proposed to Congress.

4. A $50 million reduction in new spending authority for the Federal National Mortgage Assn.

5. A similar $25 million cut for the college housing program.

6. A reduction of $13 million for the Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition Eisenhower said, the House — all appropriations bills originate there—might take a look at the possibility of withholding $516 million for Army procurement and production.

• • •

HE SAID THIS would be at the expense of efficient programming, and merely would postpone the request for the sum for another year.

Eisenhower said another possible reduction of $300 million could be made in the amount budgeted for unexpected expenses of the government.

All these items add up to the $1,858,000,000.

Without the Army procurement and production item, the figure comes to $1,342,000,000.

Eisenhower reminded the House that less than half of this could be reflected in reductions in spending during the next fiscal year.

And he said part of the items would have to be restored in the future.

Eisenhower took note of the budget-cutting drive on which the reductions "will be absorbed wherever possible without serious injury to programs essential to the public interest."

Where this can't be done, he said, h will seek restoration of the needed money. Then he took a dig at the economy wave.

"Some of the House 'cuts' have involved large sums that the executive branch is compelled by law to pay," he said. " 'Cuts' of that kind do not save money and must be later restored through supplemental appropriations unless the governing statutes are revised."

Eisenhower said, though, that he is gratified to note a growing awareness among private citizens that the dollars the federal government spends are their dollars, and that federal benefits aren't free.

Honor Society Initiates 16

Ceremony Is Held At WHS Wednesday

A group of 16 Washington C. H. High School students Wednesday were initiated into the WHS chapter of the National Honor Society, the school's highest achievement for character, scholarship, leadership and service.

In ceremonies conducted by Webb Ellis, president of the society this year, 12 juniors and four seniors were brought into the select group. Present members of the society took part in the program, aimed at honoring the students for their overall accomplishments in school.

John Trace, WHS principal, welcoming the new members at the initiation assembly, asked that their achievement be allowed to stand as a hallmark for others to copy.

Juniors admitted to the select group were Mary Ann Hackett, Wanda Jane Huff, Joyce Jane Lutz, Roger Earl McLean, Kathryn Minshall, Marianne Mouser, Earl Alfred Palmer, Josephine Carol Peters, John Lewis Rhoad, Douglas Stewart Rider, Charles Thomas Swaim and James Robert Wilson.

Seniors taken in were Theodore Russell Clarke, Carolyn Elizabeth Crago, Mary Dray and Gwendolyn Jo Meyer.

• • •

ELLIS, the president, described the history and background of NHS and the work it has done throughout the United States in honoring achievements in scholarship and character.

Explaining the rigorous standards for NHS selection, the club's adviser, Harry Winter, recalled the "purpose of the National Honor Society, which reads:

"To bear forward the searching light of truth, to lead that others may follow in the light, to keep burning a high ambition for the enduring values of life, and to serve."

Pinpointing the various achievements honored by NHS, Sandra Rose discussed scholarship, Sarah Core, leadership, Judy Preston, character, and Wanda Tracey, service.

Processional and recessional were played by Frank Miller. Natalie McLean offered the invocation, while Wilma Brown read the benediction.

Membership in the society prior to the initiation included Linda Anderson, Wilma Brown, Saundra Cook, Sarah Core, Webb Ellis, Joan Jacobs, Natalie McLean, Ann Meriweather, Judy Preston, Nancy Reno, Sandra Rose and Wanda Tracey.

Fremont Educator Shuns State Job

FREMONT (AP)—School Supt. Allen Rupp has told the Board of Education he would remain in his $12,000 a year job rather than join the governor's cabinet.

Rupp, who was Gov. C. William O'Neill's debate coach at Marietta High School, announced early in March he would leave June 15 to take a cabinet post which was understood to be chief of the Division of Natural Resources. The salary for that assignment recently was cut back from $18,000 to $12,000.

Pair Sentenced For Dairy Holdup

HAMILTON (AP)—Gene Mischke, 29, and Curtis Allen, 32, both of Covington, Ky., must serve indeterminate sentences in the Ohio Penitentiary for the $9,000 armed robbery of the Sealtest Dairy here Feb. 3. Common Pleas Judge Fred B. Cramer sentenced them Wednesday after they had changed their pleas to guilty.

The two men, along with Raymond L. White, 33, of Middletown and Frank Sumpter, 31, of Newport, Ky., were accused of having held Mrs. Harold Dallman hostage while they forced her husband, the dairy manager, to open the safe. White and Sumpter were sentenced to prison previously.

Robert Young, star of "Father Knows Best" and many movies, once resigned as a building and loan collector to become a newspaper reporter.

A group of 16 Washington C. H. High School students Wednesday were initiated into the WHS chapter of the National Honor Society, the school's highest achievement for character, scholarship, leadership and service.

In ceremonies conducted by Webb Ellis, president of the society this year, 12 juniors and four seniors were brought into the select group. Present members of the society took part in the program, aimed at honoring the students for their overall accomplishments in school.

John Trace, WHS principal, welcoming the new members at the initiation assembly, asked that their achievement be allowed to stand as a hallmark for others to copy.

Juniors admitted to the select group were Mary Ann Hackett, Wanda Jane Huff, Joyce Jane Lutz, Roger Earl McLean, Kathryn Minshall, Marianne Mouser, Earl Alfred Palmer, Josephine Carol Peters, John Lewis Rhoad, Douglas Stewart Rider, Charles Thomas Swaim and James Robert Wilson.

Seniors taken in were Theodore Russell Clarke, Carolyn Elizabeth Crago, Mary Dray and Gwendolyn Jo Meyer.

ELLIS, the president, described the history and background of NHS and the work it has done throughout the United States in honoring achievements in scholarship and character.

Explaining the rigorous standards for NHS selection, the club's adviser, Harry Winter, recalled the "purpose of the National Honor Society, which reads:

"To bear forward the searching light of truth, to lead that others may follow in the light, to keep burning a high ambition for the enduring values of life, and to serve."

Pinpointing the various achievements honored by NHS, Sandra Rose discussed scholarship, Sarah Core, leadership, Judy Preston, character, and Wanda Tracey, service.

Processional and recessional were played by Frank Miller. Natalie McLean offered the invocation, while Wilma Brown read the benediction.

Membership in the society prior to the initiation included Linda Anderson, Wilma Brown, Saundra Cook, Sarah Core, Webb Ellis, Joan Jacobs, Natalie McLean, Ann Meriweather, Judy Preston, Nancy Reno, Sandra Rose and Wanda Tracey.

Whiteside Set As PTO Head

Officers Elected By Central Group

Richard Whiteside was elected president of the Central School Parent-Teacher Assn. at its regular meeting conducted by Bob Callison.

Other officers named were Mrs. Eugene Heath, first vice president; Mrs. Harry Naylor, secretary; and Harold Moats, treasurer.

Second vice-president will be the principal of Central School. Since the present principal, Miss Helen Skaggs, will not be principal next year, that post is open for the time being.

The slate was selected by the nominating committee, including Mrs. Emory Lynch, Mrs. Nick Vrettos and Miss Helen Skaggs.

Arrangements have been made to have group pictures taken of each grade and sold to the students, it was announced by Mrs. Dale Ward for fund-raising committee. Members of the committee are Mrs. L. F. Everhart, Mrs. Robert Palmer, Mrs. John Leland and Mrs. H. F. Schlue.

Split into groups for six, members spent the program hour discussing possible meetig topics for next year.

Russia Sets Off Big Nuclear Blast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said today that Russia exploded on Tuesday a nuclear weapon which was "one of the largest thus far in the current Soviet series."

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission said this was the fifth in a series since April 3. Just last Saturday, he had announced that four tests had been conducted in the previous 10 days.

Strauss said today that the latest explosion was "at a site in central Asia previously used for such operations."

Fremont Educator Shuns State Job

FREMONT (AP)—School Supt. Allen Rupp has told the Board of Education he would remain in his $12,000 a year job rather than join the governor's cabinet.

Rupp, who was Gov. C. William O'Neill's debate coach at Marietta High School, announced early in March he would leave June 15 to take a cabinet post which was understood to be chief of the Division of Natural Resources. The salary for that assignment recently was cut back from $18,000 to $12,000.

Pair Sentenced For Dairy Holdup

HAMILTON (AP)—Gene Mischke, 29, and Curtis Allen, 32, both of Covington, Ky., must serve indeterminate sentences in the Ohio Penitentiary for the $9,000 armed robbery of the Sealtest Dairy here Feb. 3. Common Pleas Judge Fred B. Cramer sentenced them Wednesday after they had changed their pleas to guilty.

The two men, along with Raymond L. White, 33, of Middletown and Frank Sumpter, 31, of Newport, Ky., were accused of having held Mrs. Harold Dallman hostage while they forced her husband, the dairy manager, to open the safe. White and Sumpter were sentenced to prison previously.

Robert Young, star of "Father Knows Best" and many movies, once resigned as a building and loan collector to become a newspaper reporter.

Statehood Debate over Alaska and Hawaii

Again it appears that our Congress is to go through another long round of debate over the rights of Alaska and Hawaii to become full-fledged states in our Republic.

Hearings have been underway in the House as to the admission of Alaska and a similar measure in behalf of Hawaii is soon to be under discussion.

There has been a campaign on for several years to bring statehood to these two territories and the average citizen in our mainland has heard so much about these matters that he is confused over reasons advanced both pro and con.

Backers of the measures have expressed guarded optimism as the latest session in their long campaign began.

Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Texas) a leader of the antistatehood forces, concedes the bills to admit the two territories will be reported favorably from the Interior Committee. "I look for a pretty tough battle on the floor," Rogers said. "It will be a lot closer than it was in 1955."

The House voted, 218-170, in 1955 to recommit a measure granting statehood to both Hawaii and Alaska, thus killing it for that session. Democrats voted 105 - 107 against recommittal. Republicans were 113-63 for recommittal. No attempt was made to revive the bill in 1956.

Before that, statehood backers had won a number of small battles, but never the final victory. The House first passed a Hawaiian statehood measure in 1947. In 1950 it passed separate bills to admit both territories. The bills failed to get past the Senate.

Hawaiian statehood again was approved by the House in 1953 and in 1954 the Senate passed a joint statehood bill. But the House Rules Committee blocked a conference between the two chambers that might have resulted in admission of one or both.

Since the 1955 defeat, Alaska has joined Hawaii in adopting a constitution for its proposed state government. Alaskan voters have even elected two "Senators" and a "representative" who are in Washington arguing for statehood and who might be seated if the statehood measures pass.

Alaskans were heartened by the conditional approval President Eisenhower gave their bid for statehood in his 1957 Budget message, the first such endorsement since he entered the White House.

The President recommended Hawaiian statehood, as he had done before, and said Alaska should be admitted "subject to area limitations and other safeguards for the conduct of defense activities so vitally necessary to our national security."

Those limitations have not been spelled out yet, probably Alaskans would accept them.

There are, however, still major obstacles in the way of statehood for either territory. Foes claim Alaska is too sparsely settled to be self - supporting. Its estimated population of 209,000 persons is scattered over an area five times larger than Nevada, which has 7,000 more people.

As for Hawaii, the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee Feb. 28 reported "conspiratorial forces" controlling two labor unions "exercise a far flung influnce on the islands."

Opponents also argue "from the viewpoint of basic political philosophy, you are in hot water when you annex lands separated from the home country by international or foreign territory."

Behind these arguments are others, not mentioned in public. They include southern congressmen's reluctance to add four Senate votes from territories un-sympathetic to segregation, and salmon packers are reported to desire to keep control of Alaskan fishing regulations in sympathetic hands.

There is also a political angle. Before 1956, Hawaii was regarded as safely Republican, while Alaska was in the Democratic fold. Admitting both was supported as a modern version of the famous Missouri Compromise. But in 1956 both territories elected Democratic delegates, and some Republicans are said to question if statehood at this time is in the best interests of their party.

Compressed Gas Label Law Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to provide a uniform system of identifying compressed gas receptacles has been introduced by Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio).

The Ohioan said his interest in the legislation dates back to an explosion caused by a mixup in gas cylinders at the Cooper-Bessemer Corp. in Mount Vernon, Ohio, Sept. 6, 1955.

McGregor said he is not trying to blame anyone for this explosion, which he said killed four test engineers. But he asserted this type of accident is not uncommon.

'Rock-n-Roll' Death Trial Scheduled

CINCINNATI (AP) — Trial of Edwin F. Smith, 38, charged with first degree murder in the "rock 'n' roll" slaying of his wife, Mary Jean, 26, is scheduled for May 20.

Criminal Court Judge Ferd Bader set the date after police said Smith admitted killing his wife because she "went on a rock 'n' roll jag and wouldn't tend to the kids."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ARTEMUS WARD once sought a remedy for removing a wart on his face, and was offered a case of the magic ointment for a signed testimonial. So he came up with one. However, it left something to be desired —by the proprietor of the salve, anyhow. It read: "I used one jar of your remedy last night. This morning the wart, alas, remains undeminished, but my face has disappeared entirely."

Diet and Health — Arthritis, Marriage Apparently Related

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Being single seems to have some advantages after all. Now before all you husbands run up to shake my hand for this rather brave statement, let me explain what I mean.

Recent studies seem to indicate there is a definite relationship between marriage and arthritis.

Crippling Disease

Women, we know, suffer from this often crippling disease much more than do men. The ratio is about three to one, I believe. And we know that women suffer the more severe forms of arthritis.

Dr. Sidney Cobb of the University of Pittsburgh School of Public Health reports that married women are more often victms of arthritis than are single women.

Furthermore, he says, women who are separated from their husbands or have been divorced or widowed, are more affected than those who remain married.

Valid Reason

There seems to be valid reasoning to support his findings. We have long recognized that emotional factors play a major role in triggering this disease.

Marriage brings problems. I think all of you will agree with this. A single woman doesn't experience the emotional conflicts which accompany marriage and raising of a family.

Divorce, separation and widowhood often bring on one of the most common precipitating factors in arthrtis—economic insecurity.

Of course, there are various other causes of the disease. Yet, one of the most reliable treatments for all forms of arthritis just plain aspirin.

While you should consult your doctor if you have arthritis and should follow his instructions implictly, he will tell you that salicylates are not only one of the most useful anti-arthritic medications, they are also one of the safest and the cheapest medicines. However, they should always be taken under the doctor's direction.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

A. P.: Is it unhealthy to eat high protein foods and high starchy foods at the same meal?

Answer: We know of no evidence that eating foods rich in proteins and starches at the same meal would be unhealthy.

Pawn Shop's Best Clients: Women

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—If a diamond is a girl's best friend, a pawnbroker's best friend is that same girl—after she gets the diamond.

"Sixty per cent of our clients are women," said Lou Modell, who is known as "the pawnbroker's pawnbroker" and operates the nation's top individually owned hock shop.

"Why? Because women are notorious for being able to spend more money accidentally than men can on purpose.

"Many rich women, even those with an income of $50,000 or more a year, will hock a piece of jewelry for $20,000, then take the $20,000 and go out and buy another piece of jewelry with it.

"Divorcees borrow most often on their jewelry. Then wealthy wives. Widows come last.

"Career women aren't such regular clients because, to begin with, they usually are good businessmen. Also, if they need money in a hurry, they usually have a boy friend they can borrow from."

One of Modell's most unusual loans was to a titled lady accused of stabbing a gent with a jeweled letter opener.

"The next morning she pawned the letter opener for $900 to bail herself out of jail," he remarked.

If they didn't have to pay it themselves, pawnbrokers would be highly in favor of the federal income tax. Right now their windows are full of diamonds pawned so the clients could keep from going into hock with Uncle Sam.

"Our busiest season is around income tax time," said Lou, who prides himself he will advance a hard-pressed executive up to $75,000 in cash in five minutes—if he can put up enough diamonds for collateral.

He explained many executives prefer to deal with pawnbrokers rather than banks because the transaction is so confidential and fast.

The public has many misconceptions about that friendly fellow behind the counter in the store with the three-ball sign.

"Many have an idea that a pawnbroker is a blood-sucking Shylock fattening at the expense of the poor," said Lou, and added:

"Actually pawnbroking is a dying industry all across the country.

"For every new pawnbroker who opens a new shop, five go out of business. Small loan firms which can charge a higher rate in many instances and have a lower overhead, are taking much of our trade. We average only about 1 per cent net return on our investment."

What occupational group most often makes the trek to Modell's own shop?

"Jewelers," said Lou. "They borrow on the jewelry they have so they can buy more jewelry."

Problems in the Norman Case

By George Sokolsky

Bigger problems are involved in the Norman case than the suicide of any one man, no matter who he may be.

In the first place, the peaceful relations between Canada and the United States are equally important to both countries and should not lightly be sacrified for any reason whatsoever, particularly not because an executive agency of government permitted a document to slip to a congressional committee for its own reasons or because a Canadian statesman wants to play politics with every unpleasant situation that may develop between the two countries.

The Senate committee could not have had the security memorandum which started all the trouble unless someone in an executive agency of the government made it available.

If Foreign Minister Lester Pearson objects to American officials being interrogated concerning their Canadian friends, he need only to recall that Dr. Raymond Boyer, Allan Nunn May and Bruno Pontecorvo, among others, were involved in acts of espionage which concerned both Canada and the United States.

And while the Canadians might rightfully say that we, in the States, brought up a lot of very bad boys ourselves, it is true that all countries have suffered from the corruption of the human mind and spirit by Marxists and Marxism and that Canada has had its share.

The report of the Canadian Royal Commission on this subject is a masterly document, and it is to be regretted that the government in Washington did not pursue the leads provided by Prime Minister MacKenzie King who was a great friend of the United States and who did not feel called upon to use this country as a spanking boy to advance himself politically.

The most important relationship between the two countries is the radar installation in the Arctic, an American enterprise on Canadian soil, which is equally important to the security of both countries.

Neither Lester Pearson's anti-Americanism nor data brought before any congressional committee ought to be permitted to interfere with a joint operation upon which depends the safety of generations in both countries who will be alive many years after all the presently overhected personalities have left this vale of politics to account for their sins. President Eisenhower was sound in expressing the hope that the quarrel would quiet down; surely if it is continued for private political gain, it will boomerang.

There are bound to be many American congressional investigations involving Canada and Canadians, particularly as many Canadians are investing their own money and Swiss money in American industries, while at the same time considerable quantities of American dollars are being siphoned off in transactions in Canadian uranium and lithium mines which turn out to be fraud.

For instance, the Green Bay enterprises made money for some, but many lost both in the Green Bay and Twin Bay speculations. Green Bay rose from a low of between 50 and 75 cents in a few months to $12.50 and then collapsed and is now worthless. It was sold frenziedly on the New York market, but it operated out of Edmonton.

This is only one instance. There are many more, some of which are legal and legitimate, but may, from the standpoint of the economic welfare of the United States, not be sound and beneficial. The influx of Canadian capital into the United States is not as great as American investments in Canada, but it would seem that the latter is the more substantial in character.

The combination of Canadian industrialists operating within the United States with certain Swiss banks, particularly the Swiss-Israel Trade Bank, and the use of tax havens, are attracting attention and are being looked into by several executive and congressional agencies.

One reason for the investigations is to discover whether there have been violations of SEC and tax regulations and another is that there are possibilities of cartels operating in the United States as monopolies.

Certainly the newsprint situation which makes American newspapers dependent upon Canadian decisions is one such problem and requires fuller studies than have been made.

It ought to be possible for each country to do what it needs to do within the margins of its own constitutional forms without the accelerated publicity campaign that marked the Norman suicide which was sad enough and undoubtedly utterly needless as all such acts are. It is a pity that a death raised these issues.

Statehood Debate over Alaska and Hawaii

Again it appears that our Congress is to go through another long round of debate over the rights of Alaska and Hawaii to become full-fledged states in our Republic.

Hearings have been underway in the House as to the admission of Alaska and a similar measure in behalf of Hawaii is soon to be under discussion.

There has been a campaign on for several years to bring statehood to these two territories and the average citizen in our mainland has heard so much about these matters that he is confused over reasons advanced both pro and con.

Backers of the measures have expressed guarded optimism as the latest session in their long campaign began.

Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Texas) a leader of the antistatehood forces, concedes the bills to admit the two territories will be reported favorably from the Interior Committee. "I look for a pretty tough battle on the floor," Rogers said. "It will be a lot closer than it was in 1955."

The House voted, 218-170, in 1955 to recommit a measure granting statehood to both Hawaii and Alaska, thus killing it for that session. Democrats voted 105 - 107 against recommittal. Republicans were 113-63 for recommittal. No attempt was made to revive the bill in 1956.

Before that, statehood backers had won a number of small battles, but never the final victory. The House first passed a Hawaiian statehood measure in 1947. In 1950 it passed separate bills to admit both territories. The bills failed to get past the Senate.

Hawaiian statehood again was approved by the House in 1953 and in 1954 the Senate passed a joint statehood bill. But the House Rules Committee blocked a conference between the two chambers that might have resulted in admission of one or both.

Since the 1955 defeat, Alaska has joined Hawaii in adopting a constitution for its proposed state government. Alaskan voters have even elected two "Senators" and a "representative" who are in Washington arguing for statehood and who might be seated if the statehood measures pass.

Alaskans were heartened by the conditional approval President Eisenhower gave their bid for statehood in his 1957 Budget message, the first such endorsement since he entered the White House.

The President recommended Hawaiian statehood, as he had done before, and said Alaska should be admitted "subject to area limitations and other safeguards for the conduct of defense activities so vitally necessary to our national security."

Those limitations have not been spelled out yet, probably Alaskans would accept them.

There are, however, still major obstacles in the way of statehood for either territory. Foes claim Alaska is too sparsely settled to be self - supporting. Its estimated population of 209,000 persons is scattered over an area five times larger than Nevada, which has 7,000 more people.

As for Hawaii, the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee Feb. 28 reported "conspiratorial forces" controlling two labor unions "exercise a farflung influnce on the islands."

Opponents also argue "from the viewpoint of basic political philosophy, you are in hot water when you annex lands separated from the home country by international or foreign territory."

Behind these arguments are others, not mentioned in public. They include southern congressmen's reluctance to add four Senate votes from territories un-sympathetic to segregation, and salmon packers are reported to desire to keep control of Alaskan fishing regulations in sympathetic hands.

There is also a political angle. Before 1956, Hawaii was regarded as safely Republican, while Alaska was in the Democratic fold. Admitting both was supported as a modern version of the famous Missouri Compromise. But in 1956 both territories elected Democratic delegates, and some Republicans are said to question if statehood at this time is in the best interests of their party.

Diet and Health

Arthritis, Marriage Apparently Related

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Being single seems to have some advantages after all. Now before all you husbands run up to shake my hand for this rather brave statement, let me explain what I mean.

Recent studies seem to indicate there is a definite relationship between marriage and arthritis.

Crippling Disease

Women, we know, suffer from this often crippling disease much more than do men. The ratio is about three to one, I believe. And we know that women suffer the more severe forms of arthritis.

Dr. Sidney Cobb of the University of Pittsburgh School of Public Health reports that married women are more often victms of arthritis than are single women.

Furthermore, he says, women who are separated from their husbands or have been divorced or widowed, are more affected than those who remain married.

Valid Reason

There seems to be valid reasoning to support his findings. We have long recognized that emotional factors play a major role in triggering this disease.

Marriage brings problems. I think all of you will agree with this. A single woman doesn't experience the emotional conflicts which accompany marriage and raising of a family.

Divorce, separation and widowhood often bring on one of the most common precipitating factors in arthrtis—economic insecurity.

Of course, there are various other causes of the disease. Yet, one of the most reliable treatments for all forms of arthritis just plain aspirin.

While you should consult your doctor if you have arthritis and should follow his instructions implictly, he will tell you that salicylates are not only one of the most useful anti-arthritic medications, they are also one of the safest and the cheapest medicines. However, they should always be taken under the doctor's direction.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

A. P.: Is it unhealthy to eat high protein foods and high starchy foods at the same meal?

Answer: We know of no evidence that eating foods rich in proteins and starches at the same meal would be unhealthy.

Compressed Gas Label Law Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to provide a uniform system of identifying compressed gas receptacles has been introduced by Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio).

The Ohioan said his interest in the legislation dates back to an explosion caused by a mixup in gas cylinders at the Cooper-Bessemer Corp. in Mount Vernon, Ohio, Sept. 6, 1955.

McGregor said he is not trying to blame anyone for this explosion, which he said killed four test engineers. But he asserted this type of accident is not uncommon.

'Rock-n-Roll' Death Trial Scheduled

CINCINNATI (AP) — Trial of Edwin F. Smith, 38, charged with first degree murder in the "rock 'n' roll" slaying of his wife, Mary Jean, 26, is scheduled for May 20.

Criminal Court Judge Ferd Bader set the date after police said Smith admitted killing his wife because she "went on a rock 'n' roll jag and wouldn't tend to the kids."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ARTEMUS WARD once sought a remedy for removing a wart on his face, and was offered a case of the magic ointment for a signed testimonial. So he came up with one. However, it left something to be desired—by the proprietor of the salve, anyhow. It read: "I used one jar of your remedy last night. This morning the wart, alas, remains undeminished, but my face has disappeared entirely."

Pawn Shop's Best Clients: Women

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—If a diamond is a girl's best friend, a pawnbroker's best friend is that same girl—after she gets the diamond.

"Sixty per cent of our clients are women," said Lou Modell, who is known as "the pawnbroker's pawnbroker" and operates the nation's top individually owned hock shop.

"Why? Because women are notorious for being able to spend more money accidentally than men can on purpose.

"Many rich women, even those with an income of $50,000 or more a year, will hock a piece of jewelry for $20,000, then take the $20,000 and go out and buy another piece of jewelry with it.

"Divorcees borrow most often on their jewelry. Then wealthy wives. Widows come last.

"Career women aren't such regular clients because, to begin with, they usually are good businessmen. Also, if they need money in a hurry, they usually have a boy friend they can borrow from."

One of Modell's most unusual loans was to a titled lady accused of stabbing a gent with a jeweled letter opener.

"The next morning she pawned the letter opener for $900 to bail herself out of jail," he remarked.

If they didn't have to pay it themselves, pawnbrokers would be highly in favor of the federal income tax. Right now their windows are full of diamonds pawned so the clients could keep from going into hock with Uncle Sam.

"Our busiest season is around income tax time," said Lou, who prides himself he will advance a hard-pressed executive up to $75,000 in cash in five minutes—if he can put up enough diamonds for collateral.

He explained many executives prefer to deal with pawnbrokers rather than banks because the transaction is so confidential and fast.

The public has many misconceptions about that friendly fellow behind the counter in the store with the three-ball sign.

"Many have an idea that a pawnbroker is a blood-sucking Shylock fattening at the expense of the poor," said Lou, and added:

"Actually pawnbroking is a dying industry all across the country.

"For every new pawnbroker who opens a new shop, five go out of business. Small loan firms which can charge a higher rate in many instances and have a lower overhead, are taking much of our trade. We average only about 1 per cent net return on our investment."

What occupational group most often makes the trek to Modell's own shop?

"Jewelers," said Lou. "They borrow on the jewelry they have so they can buy more jewelry."

Problems in the Norman Case

By George Sokolsky

Bigger problems are involved in the Norman case than the suicide of any one man, no matter who he may be.

In the first place, the peaceful relations between Canada and the United States are equally important to both countries and should not lightly be sacrified for any reason whatsoever, particularly not because an executive agency of government permitted a document to slip to a congressional committee for its own reasons or because a Canadian statesman wants to play politics with every unpleasant situation that may develop between the two countries.

The Senate committee could not have had the security memorandum which started all the trouble unless someone in an executive agency of the government made it available.

If Foreign Minister Lester Pearson objects to American officials being interrogated concerning their Canadian friends, he need only to recall that Dr. Raymond Boyer, Allan Nunn May and Bruno Pontecorvo, among others, were involved in acts of espionage which concerned both Canada and the United States.

And while the Canadians might rightfully say that we, in the States, brought up a lot of very bad boys ourselves, it is true that all countries have suffered from the corruption of the human mind and spirit by Marxists and Marxism and that Canada has had its share.

The report of the Canadian Royal Commission on this subject is a masterly document, and it is to be regretted that the government in Washington did not pursue the leads provided by Prime Minister MacKenzie King who was a great friend of the United States and who did not feel called upon to use this country as a spanking boy to advance himself politically.

The most important relationship between the two countries is the radar installation in the Arctic, an American enterprise on Canadian soil, which is equally important to the security of both countries.

Neither Lester Pearson's anti-Americanism nor data brought before any congressional committee ought to be permitted to interfere with a joint operation upon which depends the safety of generations in both countries who will be alive many years after all the presently overheated personalities have left this vale of politics to account for their sins. President Eisenhower was sound in expressing the hope that the quarrel would quiet down; surely if it is continued for private political gain, it will boomerang.

There are bound to be many American congressional investigations involving Canada and Canadians, particularly as many Canadians are investing their own money and Swiss money in American industries, while at the same time considerable quantities of American dollars are being siphoned off in transactions in Canadian uranium and lithium mines which turn out to be fraud.

For instance, the Green Bay enterprises made money for some, but many lost both in the Green Bay and Twin Bay speculations. The influx of Canadian capital into the United States is not as great as American investments in Canada, but it would seem that the latter is the more substantial in character.

The combination of Canadian industrialists operating within the United States with certain Swiss banks, particularly the Swiss-Israel Trade Bank, and the use of tax havens, are attracting attention and are being looked into by several executive and congressional agencies.

One reason for the investigations is to discover whether there have been violations of SEC and tax regulations and another is that there are possibilities of cartels operating in the United States as monopolies.

Certainly the newsprint situation which makes American newspapers dependent upon Canadian decisions is one such problem and requires fuller studies than have been made.

It ought to be possible for each country to do what it needs to do within the margins of its own constitutional forms without the accelerated publicity campaign that marked the Norman suicide which was sad enough and undoubtedly utterly needless as all such acts are. It is a pity that a death raised these issues.

Uranium Found In Lorain Area

LORAIN (AP)—After three years of unsuccessful prospecting, John F. Rogers, 33, and Lewis N. Halitzka. 34, both of Elyria, say they have found a large deposit of low grade uranium ore in western Lorain County near Birmingham.

The prospectors are going to blast test holes to determine if the site contains commercial quality uranium. Surveyed with Geiger counters, the site registered four or five times the normal radioactive count, they said.

'Desperado' Yen Brings Jail Term

COLUMBUS (AP) — A 23-year-old Mansfield father who had a "yen to be a desperado," has to spend the next several years behind bars.

The father, Donald R. Butch, drew a 15-year sentence in federal court Wednesday after pleading guilty to the Feb. 1 armed robbery of the First National Bank of Mount Gilead.

Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood said Butch will probably be sent to the Federal Medical Rehabilitation Center in Missouri.

Expansion Planned

WILBERFORCE (AP)—A $2 million building program at Central State College has been approved by the school's trustees. Included in the program are three dormitories.

Uranium Found In Lorain Area

LORAIN (AP)—After three years of unsuccessful prospecting, John F. Rogers, 33, and Lewis N. Halitzka. 34, both of Elyria, say they have found a large deposit of low grade uranium ore in western Lorain County near Birmingham.

The prospectors are going to blast test holes to determine if the site contains commercial quality uranium. Surveyed with Geiger counters, the site registered four or five times the normal radioactive count, they said.

Missionary Society Meets At Church

The April Meeting of the McNair Missionary Society was held in the basement of the McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening. Hostesses were Mrs. Roy Hays, Mrs. Todd Ward and Mrs. W. A. Armbrust and 14 members were present.

The president, Mrs. John Warnecke, was in charge of the devotions and she opened the meeting with the hymn "On the Cross". Her devotional theme was "When Tempted To Give Up." Mrs. Warnecke followed Scripture taken from the 53rd Chapter of Isaiah 4 to 12 verses and closed with singing "Near the Cross." Mrs. Ivan Kelley conducted the Bible study and her theme was "War and Peace."

During the business session regular reports were read and approved, also a report was given on the Spring Presbyterial held in Columbus on March 29th.

Important dates to remember were announced and are: The Retreat to be held in Plain City on September 6th; A District meeting to be held at the First Presbyterian Church on October 4th; The open meeting to be held in McNair Presbyterian Church on May 15th, with the First Presbyterian and Bloomingburg Presbyterian Churches as guests.

The president appointed following committees for the May 15th meeting. Dining room committee, Mrs. Ivan Kelley, Mrs. Dora Underwood, Mrs. W. A. Armbrust and Mrs. Bryan Leasure. Food committee, Mrs. Russell Miller, Mrs. Bryan Leasure and Mrs. Charles Keaton.

Mrs. Robert Hyer was appointed secretary of literature to take the place of Mrs. Homer Scott who recently moved to Florida. The book of Ruth will be the study book of the month.

Program chairman, Mrs. Martin O'Cull, opened with a reading "What Do We Give God in Return for Life" which was written by a 17-year-old girl in a series of writings on "How Youth Looks at Lent." Mrs. O'Cull chose as her topic "Hong Kong" which was most interesting. She then closed with prayer.

The meeting closed with a reading "How Rich are You" given by Mrs. Warnecke. Tempting refreshments were served by the committee.

Population Set At 170,270,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau estimates the U. S. population at 170,270,000 on March 1.

This represented an increase of about 225,000 over the Feb. 1 estimate. It is an increase of 19,138,000 since April 1, 1950, the date of the last census.

'Wild Flowers' Theme at Garden Club Meeting

The Marilee Garden Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. O. E. Harper on Tuesday for their April meeting.

The president, Mrs. Wash Lough, opened the meeting by reading the poem "April Bells". The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Harper, gave satisfactory reports. Mrs. John Rowland reported that the Arbor Day committee had planted a magnolia tree in the yards of the Good Hope and Maple Grove Churches.

It was announced that the book "Geranium" has been presented to the Carnegie Library and plans were being made to present the book "Wild Flowers" also.

Final plans were made for the Flower Show which will be held on May 3rd at Fayette Grange Hall. Marilee Club will be hostess. It was also announced that the Club will take their flower arrangements to the County Fair on July 26th. Plans were made to tour Rocknoll Nursery on April 26th.

Roll call was answered by 10 members and one guest, Mrs. Vera Halse, by naming their favorite wild flower.

Mrs. Herbert Rothrock was in charge of the program and used as her topic "Wild Flowers." She pointed out that designers are using wild flowers on fabrics for clothes and the home and that this would be a good year to have a wild flower garden. Mrs. Rothrock gave a very interesting talk on the selection of the garden spot and when and how to plant the wild flowers.

The hostess served refreshments assisted by Mrs. Glenn Smith and Mrs. Everett Rife.

Garden Club Holds Meeting

The Posy Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Glen Hidy yesterday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. H. W. Melvin, opened the meeting by reciting two poems entitled "Since Calvary" and "Two Groups." It was decided to have an all day picnic on May 15th. at White Gulch in Jackson County, instead of the regular meeting.

It was announced that the Garden Club had been transferred from District 9 to District 16 of the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs. Roll call was answered by eight members naming their favorite annual. A flower arrangement brought by Mrs. Bess Seaman. was greatly admired.

Mrs. Lawrence Wood was in charge of the program and she gave an interesting reading on "Growing Prize Roses." Mrs. Melvin read an article about flower gimmicks and Mrs. Hidy conducted a contest.

The hostess served refreshments to the following members Mrs. H. W. Melvin, Mrs. Frank Barrett, Mrs. Bess Seaman, Mrs. Dwight King, Mrs. Burge Lightle, Mrs. Lawrence Wood and Mrs. Gerald Hidy. Mrs. Julia Camelon of Chillicothe and Mrs. O. E. Spengler were guests.

Shower Honors New Bride

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGowan, Mt. Sterling honoring their daughter, Kaye, who became the bride of Mrs. John Hollar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hollar, Mt. Sterling on April 6th. Mrs. Alma Elliott and Mrs. Pauline Anders were hostesses.

Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Neva Vaughn, Miss Marilyn Vaughn and Mrs. Shirley Elliott. After Mrs. John Hollar had opened her lovely gifts she graciously responded.

Tempting refreshments were served to the following guests, Mrs. Raymond McGowan (mother of the bride) Mrs. Charles Hollar (mother of the groom) Miss Charlotte Hollar, Mrs. Mary Brill, Mrs. Harry Hastings, Mrs. Jim Timmons, Mrs. Frank Folbrod, Mrs. Roy Braithwaite, Mrs. Cecil Yerian, Mrs. Bob Frazier, Mrs. Harold Anders, Mrs. Shirley Elliott, Mrs. George Elliott Jr., Mrs. Neva Vaughn, Miss Marilyn Vaughn, Mrs. Dan Rowland, Jeanie Rowland, Mrs. Daisy Swyers, Mrs. Bob Jackson, Mrs. Bob Stuck, Mrs. Herb Minshall, Mrs. Maurice Clyne, Mrs. Forest Butler, Mrs. Charles Jenkins, Mrs. George Morrison, Mrs. Russell Free, Mrs. Harry Free, Mrs. Marvin Free, Mrs. Bert Free, Mrs. Roy McCoy, Mrs. Mary Roberts, Sandy Roberts, Miss Eloise McGowan and Miss Freda McGowan.

Village of Bethany Holds Shrines of His Final Days

EDITOR'S NOTE: A Moslem minaret and a Christian bell tower rise over one of the lesser-known shrines of Christianity—the tomb from which the Bible says Christ raised Lazarus. Here is a report on that site and the village of Bethany, fourth in a series on famous places of Palestine.

By WILTON WYNN

BETHANY, Jordan (AP)—The village of Bethany has an intimate association with Jesus' last days on earth.

It was from here He caught sight of Jerusalem as He arrived from Jericho to face the ordeal of the cross. It was from here He made plans for His triumphal entry into Jerusalem on the first Palm Sunday. And it was in Bethany that He spent His last happy hours with some of His dearest friends.

Bethany today is an Arab village set on the hillside overlooking the Valley of Jehoshophat. Every detail of Jesus' last visit here is commemorated in religious sites and shrines.

Both Moslems and Christians hold sacred a deep grotto in the center of the village from which Jesus is said to have raised Lazarus after he had been dead four days. Two towers rise above the shrine, one a Christian church bell tower, the other a Moslem minaret.

The ruins of a narrow, vaulted stone building connect church and mosque. Local traditions say this was the house of Mary and Martha, where Jesus rested before making His final journey into Jerusalem.

On the edge of Bethany as you come from Jericho is a domed Greek Orthodox church marking the spot where some believe Mary and Martha met Jesus to tell Him their brother Lazarus was dead.

From the bell tower of this church, you get a perfect view of Bethany. On the Jerusalem road, you see a typical scene of modern Arab Palestine — men in wide cloaks and flowing Arab headdresses, women in embroidered dresses and shawls carrying enormous loads on their heads, a horse-drawn cart delivering bread, a few overloaded donkeys picking their way along, and the continual coming and going of the modern invader, the automobile, carrying passengers back and forth from Jerusalem to Jericho.

On a rise of ground to the right of the road you see the minaret and bell tower marking the tomb of Lazarus. The minaret is a recent addition to an old mosque which since the 14th Century has covered the tomb. For many centuries Christians were not allowed to visit the tomb, but later arrangements made it possible for persons of all faiths to visit the site.

In the courtyard of the adjoining Franciscan church you can see fragments of the floor of the Fourth Century church which first marked this site as the tomb of Lazarus. Two feet above that floor are remains of a Crusaders' church, built here in the 12th century.

Stretching out from the mosque and church is a honeycomb of crumbling stone houses one built on top of another, inhabited by poverty-stricken Arab families. You can hardly tell where ancient ruins end and modern buildings begin. In one stone hovel, an Arab family hangs its wash on an ancient Greco-Roman column. One family uses the roof of its neighbor lower down as a terrace where it spreads its stocks of wheat.

On the first Palm Sunday, Jesus walked from similar scenes to the next village on the Mount of Olives, Bethphage. A square stone inside a Franciscan chapel in a pine grove in Bethphage is said to be the one from which Jesus mounted the donkey to begin his triumphal ride into the holy city.

Just beyond Bethphage the triumphal path leaves the paved road and follows a trail between the stone terraces of olive groves, past the Garden of Gethsemane, across the Valley of Kidron to the wall of Jerusalem.

From the Mount of Olives you can get a striking view of Jerusalem and its surroundings. In the foreground, you can see the Arab city. Beyond it, across no-man's-land, is the Israeli sector.

Armed guards patrol the line on either side; Arabs and Israelis have been at war since 1948. The people on either side of the line have no contact with each other.

The sight of this divided city today affects the traveler very much as Jesus was touched when He saw the troubled holy city in His day and wept:

"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings!"

TV Quiz Cash Spread Studied

Taxman May Allow More 'Take-Home'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It now seems probable that the Internal Revenue Service will cast a benevolent eye on future TV quiz program winners' earnings by permitting them an income spread—provided a winner and a program have taken proper legal steps.

The pioneer step in this direction was taken by The $64,000 Question when it recently announced that contestants can spread earnings — which now could total as much as $256,000 on the program—over a period of four years at the rate of $64,000 a year. Other TV quiz programs are expected to make similar announcements.

The first $64,000 Question contestant who might try to benefit if he wishes is the youthful science whiz, 10-year-old Robert Strom.

The Internal Revenue Service has not yet ruled on the matter. Its policy is never to rule until an individual has put it to a specific test on his filed income tax return. But it reportedly looks favorably on making such a test.

The sponsor of The $64,000 Question decided, with the cooperation of the program's producer, Entertainment Productions, Inc., to set up the legal machinery which would enable a winner to attempt an income spread if he wished.

There is widespread precedence in the entertainment field. An entertainer may sign a million-dollar contract with the provision that he be paid at the rate of $50,000 a year for 20 years.

This, basically, is the type of entertainer's contract a quiz contestant may now sign with the producers of The $64,000 Question.

In the United States 37 million juveniles and adults are now enrolled in schools.

Some Film Stars Articulate And Then There Are Others

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—I went reluctantly to keep a date to interview Luise Rainer. Our dog had had puppies and our sons were in a happy dither. I drove to M-G-M. Studio wishing I could have stayed home to share the boys' fun.

Luise was late. That didn't upset me, because being tardy is a movie star's prerogative. But when she arrived she was pouting. She didn't want to be interviewed. She didn't like interviews. But the studio said it had an important outlet and she'd better see me.

"But why should I let you ask me personal questions? Why? What difference does it make to you what I sleep in? What I eat? What I think? Why should you want to know?"

"Miss Rainer," I said, "this may not interest you one bit. But at home I have two sons and five puppies and I'd much rather be there, with them, than here, with you. But I represent the fans who go to see your pictures and it is my job to tell those fans what you are like in real life. Believe me, I do not enjoy this particular day's work any more than you indicate you do. I shall, however, be happy to quote you to show that you can be a very difficult person. You could make this a pleasant hour and you could be courteous. . . ."

With that Miss Rainer turned on her great charm and what had started out to be a bad quarter hour and perhaps no story turned into a nice occasion and a pretty good story.

I wished later that when Luise turned affable, I had talked her into taking one of the pups.

A photographer and I thought up a peachy idea for interviews: take pictures of the star as she talked, using exact quotes for the captions. We tried it out first on Marie Wilson and she, being so effusive and given to gesturing while talking, made an ideal subject.

Next we tried it on a famous star who is noted only for shapely build and well moulded features. She was unable to answer questions and look well for the pictures at the same time. A one-track mind, if I ever saw one. The pictures lacked the sparkle and so did her quotes.

Some stars talk readily, speaking in quotable phrases. John Barrymore was one. His brother Lionel would discuss any subject but himself in a brilliant discursive way. Humphrey Bogart loved to talk on any subject. Fred Macmurray, when he came here in the 30s, was a dull and uninteresting talker. But, having developed confidence, he talks freely and well.

You run into some funny things during interviews. There is one old and still prominent actress whose every sentence is peppered with profanity. But even on her it doesn't sound good. Ava Gardner showed me how to make a really dry martini: with an eye dropper, float two drops of vermouth on a glassful of gin. While visiting Richard Dix, a neighbor dropped in to talk about treatment of mother-in-law. What Dix had to say about in-laws made better reading than his answers to my questions.

Hard Work Causes Heart Attacks?

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Paul Dudley White says blaming hard work and exercise for causing heart trouble is foolishness.

"Hard work is generally good for people," said the famed specialist who guided President Eisenhower back to the White House after the President's 1955 heart attack.

"Exercise is as important as eating, sleeping and working," he said.

"Unfortunately, we have gotten away from this. We are in a push-button era and to blame hard work and exercise is a great disservice to our country."

Nation's Business Said on Plateau

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A Harvard economist believes the nation's business is on a plateau and the big question is "can it maintain itself without falling?"

Malcolm P. McNair added that if business does fall off, it will not mean a bust in the old sense "but merely a longer period of adjustment."

McNair said business currently is "living out of inventory" and the next six weeks may decide whether total volume is as high this year as in 1956.

But, he said, the downward trend came "quicker than I expected" and might continue 18 months

TV Quiz Cash Spread Studied

Taxman May Allow More 'Take-Home'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It now seems probable that the Internal Revenue Service will cast a benevolent eye on future TV quiz program winners' earnings by permitting them an income spread—provided a winner and a program have taken proper legal steps.

The pioneer step in this direction was taken by The $64,000 Question when it recently announced that contestants can spread earnings — which now could total as much as $256,000 on the program—over a period of four years at the rate of $64,000 a year. Other TV quiz programs are expected to make similar announcements.

The first $64,000 Question contestant who might try to benefit if he wishes is the youthful science whiz, 10-year-old Robert Strom.

The Internal Revenue Service has not yet ruled on the matter. Its policy is never to rule until an individual has put it to a specific test on his filed income tax return. But it reportedly looks favorably on making such a test.

The sponsor of The $64,000 Question decided, with the cooperation of the program's producer, Entertainment Productions, Inc., to set up the legal machinery which would enable a winner to attempt an income spread if he wished.

There is widespread precedence in the entertainment field. An entertainer may sign a million-dollar contract with the provision that he be paid at the rate of $50,000 a year for 20 years.

This, basically, is the type of entertainer's contract a quiz contestant may now sign with the producers of The $64,000 Question.

In the United States 37 million juveniles and adults are now enrolled in schools.

Some Film Stars Articulate And Then There Are Others

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—I went reluctantly to keep a date to interview Luise Rainer. Our dog had had puppies and our sons were in a happy dither. I drove to M-G-M. Studio wishing I could have stayed home to share the boys' fun.

Luise was late. That didn't upset me, because being tardy is a movie star's prerogative. But when she arrived she was pouting. She didn't want to be interviewed. She didn't like interviews. But the studio said it had an important outlet and she'd better see me.

"But why should I let you ask me personal questions? Why? What difference does it make to you what I sleep in? What I eat? What I think? Why should you want to know?"

"Miss Rainer," I said, "this may not interest you one bit. But at home I have two sons and five puppies and I'd much rather be there, with them, than here, with you. But I represent the fans who go to see your pictures and it is my job to tell those fans what you are like in real life. Believe me, I do not enjoy this particular day's work any more than you indicate you do. I shall, however, be happy to quote you to show that you can be a very difficult person. You could make this a pleasant hour and you could be courteous. . . ."

With that Miss Rainer turned on her great charm and what had started out to be a bad quarter hour and perhaps no story turned into a nice occasion and a pretty good story.

I wished later that when Luise turned affable, I had talked her into taking one of the pups.

A photographer and I thought up a peachy idea for interviews: take pictures of the star as she talked, using exact quotes for the captions. We tried it out first on Marie Wilson and she, being so effusive and given to gesturing while talking, made an ideal subject.

Next we tried it on a famous star who is noted only for shapely build and well moulded features. She was unable to answer questions and look well for the pictures at the same time. A one-track mind, if I ever saw one. The pictures lacked the sparkle and so did her quotes.

Some stars talk readily, speaking in quotable phrases. John Barrymore was one. His brother Lionel would discuss any subject but himself in a brilliant discursive way. Humphrey Bogart loved to talk on any subject. Fred Macmurray, when he came here in the 30s, was a dull and uninteresting talker. But, having developed confidence, he talks freely and well.

You run into some funny things during interviews. There is one old and still prominent actress whose every sentence is peppered with profanity. But even on her it doesn't sound good. Ava Gardner showed me how to make a really dry martini: with an eye dropper, float two drops of vermouth on a glassful of gin. While visiting Richard Dix, a neighbor dropped in to talk about treatment of mother-in-law. What Dix had to say about in-laws made better reading than his answers to my questions.

Hard Work Causes Heart Attacks?

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Paul Dudley White says blaming hard work and exercise for causing heart trouble is foolishness.

"Hard work is generally good for people," said the famed specialist who guided President Eisenhower back to the White House after the President's 1955 heart attack.

"Exercise is as important as eating, sleeping and working," he said.

"Unfortunately, we have gotten away from this. We are in a push-button era and to blame hard work and exercise is a great disservice to our country."

Nation's Business Said on Plateau

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A Harvard economist believes the nation's business is on a plateau and the big question is "can it maintain itself without falling?"

Malcolm P. McNair added that if business does fall off, it will not mean a bust in the old sense "but merely a longer period of adjustment."

McNair said business currently is "living out of inventory" and the next six weeks may decide whether total volume is as high this year as in 1956.

But, he said, the downward trend came "quicker than I expected" and might continue 18 months

Roman Intelligence Reports Relate Story of Crucifixion

Christ appears before Pontius Pilate.

By HOYT M'AFEE
Central Press Assn.

At Eastertime, the thoughts of Christians the world over turn to the mission of Christ on earth—His teachings of love, faith, peace, goodwill, His crucifixion and His resurrection.

But in the hundreds of millions of words concerning His shining example for all mankind, scant attention has been devoted to the typical Roman reaction to Jesus and his crucifixion.

As every reader knows, Rome ruled a large art of the civilized world—and Judea in particular—during Christ's life on earth. Tiberius was the Roman Emperor; and he and his subjects heard little, and cared less, about the New Messiah in far-off Judea.

However, Pontius Pilate, the Roman procurator (governor) over that restless and unhappy land, was aware of the prominence of Jesus of Nazareth, of His comings and goings about Judea, of His teachings, and healing powers.

His own wife, Claudia, toward the last was both impressed and influenced by the message of "Joshua of Nazareth," as the Greeks called Him. But at no time, Roman intelligence papers clearly indicate, was Pilate perturbed or worried over the rise and increasing sway of Jesus. Most of his officers and soldiers took much the same attitude—being far less concerned over him than the Pharisees and leaders of the Jewish temple in Jerusalem.

* * *

SO NOW to the dramatic moment. Jesus—at the behest of infuriated Jewish priests of Jerusalem—was seized by Roman soldiers and brought before Pontius Pilate. From here on I quote, in essence, from an ancient, yellowed Roman intelligence file.

Travelers, returning to Rome from visits to Judea, told lurid tales about the doings and preachings of the New Messiah—or Christ.

They interested a Roman magistrate enough that he wrote a friend of his with Roman forces stationed in Jerusalem and Judea. This friend was assigned to an intelligence unit, and he was asked to round up all the information he could about Christ—how He looked, what He actually was teaching and how He was being received. Its revelations:

In the year 783-784 "Pilatus" hurried to Jerusalem on being informed that the son of a carpenter of Nazareth (Joshua) had incited to riot. Reports were abroad that He was plotting a revolution against Roman authority.

Oddly, our intelligence officers (Roman) had no information to this effect. They quickly investigated the reports, however, and found the carpenter's son (Jesus) to be a kindly and gentle man. They recommended that no action be taken against Him.

* * *

HOWEVER, the old-fashioned leaders of the Jewish faith were adamant in their demands. Their inflamed jealousy stemmed from the Nazarene's great popularity with the masses of poorer Hebrews—with the lost, the homeless and the forgotten.

Finally, when aroused mobs around the temple moved to lynch Joshua, and snuff out the lives of his followers, Pilatus ordered the carpenter taken into custody. That saved His life—for the time being.

Whereupon, a parade of old-fashioned Jewish priests wound in and out of Fortress Antonia, repeating their grievances and accusing Joshua of "treason" and "heresy." Pilatus, disturbed over this continued agitation, summoned the Nazarene to his chamber. Privately he talked with the humble Galilean for hours. Asked whether He had urged usurpation of Roman authority, Jesus assured Pilatus that He was not concerned with politics.

He made the point that He was interested only in men's souls—in their salvation.

His mission, He explained, was to teach people to treat their neighbors as brothers and to love God—the creator of all human beings.

Pilatus, himself an expert in the teachings of the Stoics and Greek philosophers, saw no reason to suspect the Nazarene of sedition. He (Pilatus- felt no anger or displeasure toward Him.

He exerted the powers of his office to spare the kindly prophet's life. But after he had postponed the Nazarene's execution a second time, shouting mobs—whipped into a frenzy by their Jewish priests—became almost uncontrollable.

* * *

THEY STARTED a whispering campaign that Pilatus had fallen under "the evil spell" of the Nazarene. More alarming, they threatened to report him to Rome as an enemy of Emperor Tiberius, and to demand that he be recalled from his post as procurator of Judea.

There was only a small garrison of Roman troops in Jerusalem at the time, and to avert riots and the outbreak of civil war. Pilatus finally handed Joshua over to His enemies—the Roman intelligence file explains apologetically.

Pilatus ordered, however, that Joshua should not be executed by stoning, skull crushing, or strangulation—the Jewish forms of death prevalent then. He insisted that the Nazarene must be crucified—crucifixion being the Roman form of death.

Joshua (Jesus) was crucified on a cross between two thieves, with the howls and derisive laughter of the Jerusalem mob ringing in his ears. His executioners gambled for possession of his sole garment—a robe. The whole episode was harmless as far as the safety of the state (Roman) was concerned. But then, the Roman intelligence file concludes, we Romans never did understand the people of this province (Judea).

2 Workmen's A-Radiation Claims Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Chalmers P. Wylie, administrator for the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, today is studying claims of two men who believe they are ill because of atomic radiation.

Both cases are based on work the men performed at the huge atomic energy installation at Piketon last May. The men are Nathan J. Salyers of Piketon and Clarence R. Norton of Coshocton.

Wylie said Salyers, 41, is near death of cancer. According to records that Wylie is studying, Salyers was installing electric conduit wire and claims he inhaled a substance which caused his "complete disability."

Some of the details of the case were not available, even to Wylie, because the federal government classifies information about the plant as "top secret."

Salyers is at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Dayton.

Norton was an employe of Peter Kewit and Sons of St. Louis, prime contractor which built the atomic plant. According to his complaint, he contacted dermitis (skin disease) when he was operating a locomotive switching railroad cars in the plant.

Norton claims he was exposed to some type of radiation.

Wylie will decide whether the claims should be approved. He said his decision probably will be ready in several days.

Mother of 17 Likes Jail Stint

AKRON (AP) — Mrs. Katherine Ferrell, 45, of Akron, mother of 17, was arrested for intoxication and spent a night in jail because she was unable to make bail.

Municipal Judge J. L. Tweed of Cuyahoga Falls asked her how she liked the jail. She replied:

"It's the first good night's sleep I've had for 20 years."

The judge suspended a fine of $10 and costs.

New Ohio River Bridge Plans Studied

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Plans for a new Ohio River bridge, linking U. S. 23 at Greenup, Ky., site of a new lock-and-dam system, and U. S. 52 at Haverhill in Scioto County, Ohio, are taking form.

Walter Curtis of the technical liaison office, U.S. Corps of Engineers at Huntington, W. Va., disclosed details of the project proposed by the commonwealth of Kentucky.

Curtis said Kentucky's Department of Highways has proposed revision of the Greenup dam construction plans to include erection of reinforced concrete piers on the west, or downstream, side of the new navigational structure.

Engineers said the plans would not delay completion of the Greenup system, designed to eliminate Dams 27, 28 and 29, operating below the Gallipolis, Ohio, roller dam.

Industries along the river want the Greenup system since many tributary streams will become navigable with the pool state increased. A bridge there would be a new artery to the Dow Chemical Co.'s styrofoam installations, and the few choice plant sites remaining in that area.

Malcolm Patterson, public relations director for the Kentucky Department of Highways, said his agency's engineers had prepared no estimate of cost on the bridge. Designs and specifications can be taker after the U.S. Engineers agree to include construction of the piers.

Kentucky would undertake the project, Patterson indicated, but Ohio's Department of Highways would be called on to help secure a suitable link with U.S. 52.

Roman Intelligence Reports Relate Story of Crucifixion

Christ appears before Pontius Pilate.

By HOYT M'AFEE
Central Press Assn.

At Eastertime, the thoughts of Christians the world over turn to the mission of Christ on earth—His teachings of love, faith, peace, goodwill, His crucifixion and His resurrection.

But in the hundreds of millions of words concerning His shining example for all mankind, scant attention has been devoted to the typical Roman reaction to Jesus and his crucifixion.

As every reader knows, Rome ruled a large art of the civilized world—and Judea in particular—during Christ's life on earth. Tiberius was the Roman Emperor; and he and his subjects heard little, and cared less, about the New Messiah in far-off Judea.

However, Pontius Pilate, the Roman procurator (governor) over that restless and unhappy land, was aware of the prominence of Jesus of Nazareth, of His comings and goings about Judea, of His teachings, and healing powers.

His own wife, Claudia, toward the last was both impressed and influenced by the message of "Joshua of Nazareth," as the Greeks called Him. But at no time, Roman intelligence papers clearly indicate, was Pilate perturbed or worried over the rise and increasing sway of Jesus. Most of his officers and soldiers took much the same attitude—being far less concerned over him than the Pharisees and leaders of the Jewish temple in Jerusalem.

* * *

SO NOW to the dramatic moment. Jesus—at the behest of infuriated Jewish priests of Jerusalem—was seized by Roman soldiers and brought before Pontius Pilate. From here on I quote, in essence, from an ancient, yellowed Roman intelligence file.

Travelers, returning to Rome from visits to Judea, told lurid tales about the doings and preachings of the New Messiah—or Christ.

They interested a Roman magistrate enough that he wrote a friend of his with Roman forces stationed in Jerusalem and Judea. This friend was assigned to an intelligence unit, and he was asked to round up all the information he could about Christ—how He looked, what He actually was teaching and how He was being received. Its revelations:

In the year 783-784 "Pilatus" hurried to Jerusalem on being informed that the son of a carpenter of Nazareth (Joshua) had incited to riot. Reports were abroad that He was plotting a revolution against Roman authority.

Oddly, our intelligence officers (Roman) had no information to this effect. They quickly investigated the reports, however, and found the carpenter's son (Jesus) to be a kindly and gentle man. They recommended that no action be taken against Him.

* * *

HOWEVER, the old-fashioned leaders of the Jewish faith were adamant in their demands. Their inflamed jealousy stemmed from the Nazarene's great popularity with the masses of poorer Hebrews—with the lost, the homeless and the forgotten.

Finally, when aroused mobs around the temple moved to lynch Joshua, and snuff out the lives of his followers, Pilatus ordered the carpenter taken into custody. That saved His life—for the time being.

Whereupon, a parade of old-fashioned Jewish priests wound in and out of Fortress Antonia, repeating their grievances and accusing Joshua of "treason" and "heresy." Pilatus, disturbed over this continued agitation, summoned the Nazarene to his chamber. Privately he talked with the humble Galilean for hours. Asked whether He had urged usurpation of Roman authority, Jesus assured Pilatus that He was not concerned with politics.

He made the point that He was interested only in men's souls—in their salvation.

His mission, He explained, was to teach people to treat their neighbors as brothers and to love God—the creator of all human beings.

Pilatus, himself an expert in the teachings of the Stoics and Greek philosophers, saw no reason to suspect the Nazarene of sedition. He (Pilatus- felt no anger or displeasure toward Him.

Ohio Solons Plan Long Work Week

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's lawmakers ended a bob-tailed legislative week today, but return Monday to face a five-week speedup designed to end the session.

Starting Monday, both houses will meet at 3 p. m. each Monday, five hours earlier than usual, and will hold Thursday afternoon sessions instead of returning home at noon.

The idea is to give legislative committees extra time to work on Monday nights and Thursday mornings. The committees carry the burden of work in the Assembly and the pressure is on them to take final action on worthy bills among the 1,376 on file.

Whether the Senate and House can bulldoze their way through the mountain of work remaining before a May 24 target date for ending working sessions seems doubtful to many veteran observers.

Before ending this 15th legislative week, which was chopped up by mass attendance of Assembly members at baseball openers at Cincinnati and Cleveland, the lawmakers called up for floor votes:

* * *

A HOUSE BILL to appropriate $412 million for such state assistance as schools, subsidies for the treatment of tuberculosis, poor relief, aid to the blind and dependent children and police and fire pension funds.

A Senate-proposed constitutional amendment to provide that appropriations for state-financed capital improvements shall not lapse after two years, but will be available for longer periods. If approved by three-fifths of the Senate and House, it will be subject to approval at the polls.

The House virtually completed action Wednesday on an emergency bill to set the salary of the state superintendent of public instruction at $25,000 a year.

After the Senate accepts minor House amendments, the State Board of Education will be in a position to sign the employment of E. E. Holt, Springfield school head, as state superintendent.

He has accepted the post subject to passage of the bill.

Meanwhile, Gov. C. William O'Neill signed four legislative acts, including one he had requested to reduce the salaries of Cabinet officials for whom he asked raises early in January. The salary reductions, which average near $6,000 a year, are effective at once. The Legislature passed the pay-cut bill last week.

In other actions Wednesday:

The House sent to the Senate a bill authorizing dental care corporations, similar to medical Blue Cross groups. The bill requires a minimum of 75 dentists to form such a corporation.

* * *

AT LEAST 20 per cent of the dentists in the counties served would have to be members of such a corporation before it could be effective. The bill is backed by the Ohio State Dental Assn.

The Senate, after 45 minutes of merriment, defeated a bill authorizing the State Public Works Department to trap and "put to sleep" the pigeons which flock daily to the Statehouse grounds. The debate was featured by the presence of a live, caged pigeon.

Sen. William H. Deddens (R-Hamilton) made the pigeon his "Exhibit A" in an impassioned plea for their preservation.

He said he was giving the pigeon its constitutional right "to meet its accuser face-to-face."

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to increase the maximum height of trucks allwed on Ohio highways from 12½ to 13½ feet.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill authorizing municipal and county sewer districts to make preliminary assessments to plan improvements. In a companion measure, the Senate sent to the House a bill creating a state rotary fund—expected to require a $100,000 appropriation—to help villages plan sewer and water systems.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT—A comedy, "Full of Life," (scene above) and a Western thriller, "Reprisal," make up the twin bill that opens Sunday at the Fayette Theater. Judy Holliday and Richard Conte star in the comedy. Guy Madison, Felicia Farr and Kathryn Grant take the leading roles in the Western.

A Senate-proposed constitutional amendment to provide that appropriations for state-financed capital improvements shall not lapse after two years, but will be available for longer periods. If approved by three-fifths of the Senate and House, it will be subject to approval at the polls.

The House virtually completed action Wednesday on an emergency bill to set the salary of the state superintendent of public instruction at $25,000 a year.

After the Senate accepts minor House amendments, the State Board of Education will be in a position to sign the employment of E. E. Holt, Springfield school head, as state superintendent.

He has accepted the post subject to passage of the bill.

Meanwhile, Gov. C. William O'Neill signed four legislative acts, including one he had requested to reduce the salaries of Cabinet officials for whom he asked raises early in January. The salary reductions, which average near $6,000 a year, are effective at once. The Legislature passed the pay-cut bill last week.

In other actions Wednesday:

The House sent to the Senate a bill authorizing dental care corporations, similar to medical Blue Cross groups. The bill requires a minimum of 75 dentists to form such a corporation.

* * *

AT LEAST 20 per cent of the dentists in the counties served would have to be members of such a corporation before it could be effective. The bill is backed by the Ohio State Dental Assn.

The Senate, after 45 minutes of merriment, defeated a bill authorizing the State Public Works Department to trap and "put to sleep" the pigeons which flock daily to the Statehouse grounds. The debate was featured by the presence of a live, caged pigeon.

Sen. William H. Deddens (R-Hamilton) made the pigeon his "Exhibit A" in an impassioned plea for their preservation.

He said he was giving the pigeon its constitutional right "to meet its accuser face-to-face."

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to increase the maximum height of trucks allwed on Ohio highways from 12½ to 13½ feet.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill authorizing municipal and county sewer districts to make preliminary assessments to plan improvements. In a companion measure, the Senate sent to the House a bill creating a state rotary fund—expected to require a $100,000 appropriation—to help villages plan sewer and water systems.

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT—A comedy, "Full of Life," (scene above) and a Western thriller, "Reprisal," make up the twin bill that opens Sunday at the Fayette Theater. Judy Holliday and Richard Conte star in the comedy. Guy Madison, Felicia Farr and Kathryn Grant take the leading roles in the Western.

Cadillac

The Choice That is Never Challenged!

Drive a Cadillac over any period of time you wish—and the odds are that no one will ever question your choice of a motor car.

For almost everyone understands the instincts that lead a man to Cadillac. Rare is the motorist, in fact, who does not have his own heart set on the "car of cars".

Certainly, this is as it should be. For Cadillac's virtues are simply too numerous to be overlooked—and too apparent to be misunderstood.

Who, for instance, could behold a new Cadillac and not proclaim it the most beautiful and majestic of automobiles?

Who could ride in a new Cadillac and not recognize its extraordinary luxury and comfort?

Who could drive a new Cadillac and not pronounce it the crowning achievement of automotive engineering?

And who—knowing of Cadillac's many economies of ownership could fail to recognize it as the finest investment in all motordom?

* * *

Indeed, the reasons for choosing Cadillac are as valid as they are numerous—and we urge you to visit your dealer at your first opportunity and discover all of them for yourself.

Why not spend an hour at the wheel—and select your favorite Cadillac model as your own?

You can rest assured—the whole world will approve your choice!

Upper Paint Council Conducts Discussion

The Upper Paint Township Farm Bureau Council held its April meeting Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook with 14 members and two guests present.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Orville Mickle, chairman and Pearl Rhoades, legislative representative, reported on workman's compensation.

Elmer Simerl, discussion leader for the month, chose as one of his topics, the school issue in Fayette County and Charles Cook gave an account of one of the hearings on the Perrill bill abolishing county school districts and administrators in counties in which there is only one local school district.

Mr and Mrs. Simerl than gave a first hand talk on the electronic range, and the former then read from the Farm Bureau Cooperator some of the reports from other councils in Ohio, and what they are doing.

• • •

THE LAST TOPIC of discussion was tractor tragedies. Simerl reported that in 1956 there were 58 tractor fatalities in Ohio. Many ways in which these accidents have happened were discussed.

After the meeting closed, refreshments were served by the host and hostess to: Miss Kate Gossard, Mrs. Verne Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Simerl, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Denen, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Mickle, Mrs. Leland Stevens, Eben Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Rhoades and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Coil.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Rhoades, with Charles Cook as discussion leader.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

With corn planting time just around the corner, a safe estimate of the corn acreage in the county this year is at least 70,000 acres, and if weather permits the first planting will be the first week in May.

That reminds me that the 1955 acreage was 72,500 bushels, and the average yield was 65 bushels to the acre, with the price $1.30 a bushel.

Only once before had the yield been been exceeded, and that was in 1954 when the yield was 69.7 bushels to the acre and the price was $1.46 per bushel.

With a reduced acreage of oats this year, due to wet weather it is possible that the corn acreage may go above the estimated 70,000 acres.

While it may be "counting the chickens before they hatch", if the yield this year would be 60 bushels to the acre, the total production would be 4,200,000 bushels, and at the current price of 1.22 per bushel, the income from the corn crop would total $5,124,000.

So, far as known, the greatest acreage of corn ever planted in Fayette County was 1880 when the amount was 82,222 acres, and the average price was .28 cents a bushel.

The 1880 price was the lowest in 77 years, although during the dark days of the depression in 1932 the average price was 31 cents, and he lowest price was about half that amount.

In 1930 the average yield per acre was 26 bushels (during the drought year) and the following year was 48 bushels to the acre.

Corn definitely is still Fayette County's leading crop.

REAL "WELL WITCHER!"

Leesburg obtains the bulk of its water supply from an artesian well located on a municipally owned tract of land on the north side of Route 28 and west of Lees Creek, a short distance northeast of the town.

There is an interesting story back of the well, and it centers about Shep Johnson, "well witcher", who "witched" the well after efforts to locate an abundant water supply in the same area had failed.

When efforts to locate water had been fruitless, the village officials were in a quandary. They suggested that they try Shep Johnson and his forked peach-limb to locate a water supply.

This was done about 1934 or 1935, and after going over the area where a well was desired, the peach limb turned down, and Johnson announced that water would be found there.

The well was drilled to a depth, as I recall, of about 100 feet, and water poured out over top of the ground. The well is still flowing as strong as it was when first drilled.

As I recall the first water brought up decayed leaves and sticks, indicating that the drill reached an old pre-glacial stream bed which cut through the underlying rock to a depth of nearly 100 feet.

Johnson died several years ago, I am told, but the town folks still recall his well witching ability.

RARE INDIAN PIPE

In the current issue of the Ohio Archaeologist, published by The Archaeological Society of Ohio, and regarded as the leading publication of its kind in America, there is a picture and story of a rare "wolverine" Indian pipe, which is owned by Charles L. Kisling, 228 Oakland Ave. It is part of a large collection of Indian artifacts which he owns.

It is shaped like the animal whose name it bears.

The pipe is some five inches in length and three inches in depth, finely carved from dark-blue steatite. It is one of the few "wolverine" pipes known, and was found near the Ohio-Michigan line by James Creek. Following his death, Mrs. Cheek, a native of Fayette County, sold the farm and moved to Washington C. H. Charles obtained the pipe from her.

In the article giving the history of the stone, Charles writes: "All my life I have been interested in archaeology and Indians and their customs. I have been collecting Indian relics since a boy, and have read most Indian books.

"My Grandfather Kisling lived on and farmed the Adams County Serpent Mound before the state acquired it. My father and aunt were born on this farm in the house that afterward became the caretaker's home and later burned down.

"A few years ago I decided to dispose of all chipped and broken pieces and keep only the fine or unusual. My collection probably totals 2,000 pieces, all fine.

"I have a nice general collection of Fayette County which I plan to photograph and will show in a future issue of the Ohio Archaeologist".

OLD TRAIN SCHEDULE

One of those rare and interesting old train schedules, giving the time of departure of 22 passenger trains which were serving this city in 1892, has for many years been in the possession of Sam Evans, veteran porter at the Cherry Hotel.

The old train schedule was issued by the Cherry Hotel when that hostelry was managed by W. L. Shaw and J. E. Sykes was the clerk. It bears date of June 15, 1892, and it is noted that the hotel rates were $2 per day, with "sample rooms on first floor."

Eight of the daily passenger trains were operated by the Midland Division of the B&O Railroad (now Newark division); six by the C&MV (now Pennsylvania) four by the CH&D (now B&O) and four by the Ohio Southern (now the DT&I).

It was noted that 12 of the trains carried mail and four carried express.

The trains started at 4:30 a. m. and the last one left the city at 9:59 p. m. when the schedule was in effect 65 years ago.

Sam has given the rare old time table to the Fayette County Historical Society as a reminder of the good old days when passenger trains were abundant, fares low, and before a passenger-trainless city was ever dreamed of.

Mahoning Solon Gets Full Salary

COLUMBUS (AP)—Rep. G. D. Tablack (D-Mahoning) is entitled to all his pay as a legislator despite the fact he was nearly two months late in taking his seat.

Tablack, hoping for an appointment to a $12,000-a-year post on the State Liquor Board, waited from Jan. 1 to Feb. 20 before presenting his election certificate. The appointment never came through and Tablack was sworn in as a state legislator.

On Feb. 27, the House excused Tablack's earlier absence, and authorized him the Jan. 1-Feb. 20 pay. Representatives receive $5,000 a year. This week, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe upheld the House's action.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

With corn planting time just around the corner, a safe estimate of the corn acreage in the county this year is at least 70,000 acres, and if weather permits the first planting will be the first week in May.

That reminds me that the 1955 acreage was 72,500 bushels, and the average yield was 65 bushels to the acre, with the price $1.30 a bushel.

Only once before had the yield been been exceeded, and that was in 1954 when the yield was 69.7 bushels to the acre and the price was $1.46 per bushel.

With a reduced acreage of oats this year, due to wet weather it is possible that the corn acreage may go above the estimated 70,000 acres.

While it may be "counting the chickens before they hatch", if the yield this year would be 60 bushels to the acre, the total production would be 4,200,000 bushels, and at the current price of 1.22 per bushel, the income from the corn crop would total $5,124,000.

So, far as known, the great est acreage of corn ever planted in Fayette County was 1880 when the amount was 82,222 acres, and the average price was .28 cents a bushel.

The 1880 price was the lowest in 77 years, although during the dark days of the depression in 1932 the average price was 31 cents, and he lowest price was about half that amount.

In 1930 the average yield per acre was 26 bushels (during the drought year) and the following year was 48 bushels to the acre.

Corn definitely is still Fayette County's leading crop.

REAL "WELL WITCHER!"

Leesburg obtains the bulk of its water supply from an artesian well located on a municipally owned tract of land on the north side of Route 28 and west of Lees Creek, a short distance northeast of the town.

There is an interesting story back of the well, and it centers about Shep Johnson, "well witcher", who "witched" the well after efforts to locate an abundant water supply in the same area had failed.

When efforts to locate water had been fruitless, the village officials were in a quandary. They suggested that they try Shep Johnson and his forked peach-limb to locate a water supply.

This was done about 1934 or 1935, and after going over the area where a well was desired, the peach limb turned down, and Johnson announced that water would be found there.

The well was drilled to a depth, as I recall, of about 100 feet, and water poured out over top of the ground. The well is still flowing as strong as it was when first drilled.

As I recall the first water brought up decayed leaves and sticks, indicating that the drill reached an old pre-glacial stream bed which cut through the underlying rock to a depth of nearly 100 feet.

Johnson died several years ago, I am told, but the town folks still recall his well witching ability.

RARE INDIAN PIPE

In the current issue of the Ohio Archaeologist, published by The Archaeological Society of Ohio, and regarded as the leading publication of its kind in America, there is a picture and story of a rare "wolverine" Indian pipe, which is owned by Charles L. Kisling, 228 Oakland Ave. It is part of a large collection of Indian artifacts which he owns.

It is shaped like the animal whose name it bears.

The pipe is some five inches in length and three inches in depth, finely carved from dark-blue steatite. It is one of the few "wolverine" pipes known, and was found near the Ohio-Michigan line by James Creek. Following his death, Mrs. Cheek, a native of Fayette County, sold the farm and moved to Washington C. H. Charles obtained the pipe from her.

In the article giving the history of the stone, Charles writes: "All my life I have been interested in archaeology and Indians and their customs. I have been collecting Indian relics since a boy, and have read most Indian books.

"My Grandfather Kisling lived on and farmed the Adams County Serpent Mound before the state acquired it. My father and aunt were born on this farm in the house that afterward became the caretaker's home and later burned down.

"A few years ago I decided to dispose of all chipped and broken pieces and keep only the fine or unusual. My collection probably totals 2,000 pieces, all fine.

"I have a nice general collection of Fayette County which I plan to photograph and will show in a future issue of the Ohio Archaeologist".

OLD TRAIN SCHEDULE

One of those rare and interesting old train schedules, giving the time of departure of 22 passenger trains which were serving this city in 1892, has for many years been in the possession of Sam Evans, veteran porter at the Cherry Hotel.

The old train schedule was issued by the Cherry Hotel when that hostelry was managed by W. L. Shaw and J. E. Sykes was the clerk. It bears date of June 15, 1892, and it is noted that the hotel rates were $2 per day, with "sample rooms on first floor."

Eight of the daily passenger trains were operated by the Midland Division of the B&O Railroad (now Newark division); six by the C&MV (now Pennsylvania) four by the CH&D (now B&O) and four by the Ohio Southern (now the DT&I).

It was noted that 12 of the trains carried mail and four carried express.

The trains started at 4:30 a. m. and the last one left the city at 9:59 p. m. when the schedule was in effect 65 years ago.

Sam has given the rare old time table to the Fayette County Historical Society as a reminder of the good old days when passenger trains were abundant, fares low, and before a passenger-trainless city was ever dreamed of.

Mahoning Solon Gets Full Salary

COLUMBUS (AP)—Rep. G. D. Tablack (D-Mahoning) is entitled to all his pay as a legislator despite the fact he was nearly two months late in taking his seat.

Tablack, hoping for an appointment to a $12,000-a-year post on the State Liquor Board, waited from Jan. 1 to Feb. 20 before presenting his election certificate. The appointment never came through and Tablack was sworn in as a state legislator.

On Feb. 27, the House excused Tablack's earlier absence, and authorized him the Jan. 1-Feb. 20 pay. Representatives receive $5,000 a year. This week, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe upheld the House's action.

Hapless Jordan Surrounded By Troops Ready to Pounce

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Troops of four countries occupy or surround hapless Jordan. They are ready to pounce the moment Jordan appears too puny to put up effective resistance.

Syrian troops have established a solid beachhead in north Jordan. The 3,500 troops firmly entrenched with their families and household goods in the Mafrak area were reinforced last week by an armored regiment.

Military sources estimate Syria now has more than 5,000 troops in the area.

Saudi Arabian troops have set up three bases in Jordan. In the south they have taken over the Aqaba area. On the west bank of the River Jordan, once Palestine, they have set up two bases in the Jericho district. The Saudis' 3,500 troops are equipped with American weapons. This gives them better fire power than the Syrian soldiers.

Just across Jordan's northeastern border, a regiment of Iraqi troops commands the old invasion route at a place called H3. It is a desert, so Iraq cannot maintain more than a regiment for any length of time.

Finally, across Jordan's 400-mile frontier with Israel, the Israeli army, biggest fighting force in the Middle East, is poised for action.

Israeli government officials say they cannot look the other way if any of the three Arab states makes a move on Jordan. Israel long has coveted the territory west of the Jordan River with the cities of Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Jericho, Hebron and Nablus.

Jordan is visibly weakening day by day.

The government crisis has split Jordan wide open and clearly showed up her precarious position. King Hussein has good reason to be afraid.

The Saudi defense minister told the Saudi commander in Jordan his troops should henceforth be considered as part of the Jordan army.

This order has not been countermanded four days later.

King Faisal of Iraq is reported to have telephoned his cousin Hussein at the same time offering to send Iraqi troops into Jordan.

It turned out Syria had been moving supply convoys across the border for an armored regiment which had gone ahead the previous day.

Inspired by Communist propaganda, extreme Arab nationalists in Jordan adopt the line that Jordan has no reason to exist as a separate state.

Yet Jordan is sure to die if she can not obtain susbtantial outside economic aid.

Created following World War I, Jordan until early this year received an annual subsidy of 32 million dollars from Britain. This subsidy stopped when the Jordan government which Hussein has just ousted renounced the treaty with Britain.

To fill the gap, Egypt's President Nasser, Saud and President Kuwatly of Syria promised to match the British subsidy.

So far the three sister Arab states have parted with little money—certainly not enough to keep the country going.

One official says the Jordan finance minister recently went to Damascus to find out why Syria had failed to pay its promised share. He got instead a bill covering the cost of maintaining Syrian troops in Jordan. The amount was equal to the share the Syrians had promised to give Jordan.

As for the Egyptian share, another official explained Nasser had authorized Jordan to order supplies, charging them to Egypt. But Egypt failed to pay and the shipments were stopped.

A foreign diplomat says this was the underlying cause that set off the government crisis that gripped Jordan for six days and ended in at least a tentative victory for Hussein.

United States offers to Jordan seem to be her only hope for real financial aid. But to qualify for a slice of the 200 million dollars voted by Congress for the Middle East Jordan had to agree to the Eisenhower doctrine. That meant suppressing the Communist movement sweeping Jordan.

When the government refused to obey the King's orders, the young monarch fired the government.

Now perhaps Jordan may qualify, provided the new shotgun cabinet survives long enough.

Rock 'N' Roll Centuries Old In Portugal, Housewife Says

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

LISBON (AP) — I had to come to Portugal to find out that there is very little new under the sun.

For instance, the Portuguese have been doing the rock 'n' roll for centuries, only they call it the fandango. And so you thought contour plowing and land reclamation were modern? You ought to see a Portuguese mountain with precise green wheat fields planted all the way to the top, with scientific windbreaks and sculptured furrows.

The Portuguese rock 'n' roll dance was part of a floor show at a restaurant in Salvaterra, some 30 miles from Lisbon, where on Sundays they serve a seven-course meal all day long, with peasant songs and dances by local boys and girls, music by a flamenco orchestra and at the end of it all a do-it-yourself bullfight in the back yard.

As our sightseeing bus drew up at the little restaurant, it was immediately surrounded by six local cowboys and a matador proudly sitting his dancing horse, the silver saddle mountings glittering in the hot noonday sun.

Portuguese cowboys would not be recognized in America. They wear bright green stocking caps with a red band around the edge, white shirts, red vests and cummerbunds, tight knee breeches of dark blue with brass buttons, and long white knitted socks with fancy cable-stitching.

This resplendent turnout was a guard of honor for the visitors.

Inside we were seated at tables strewn with red and white roses, and the fun began. On stage were the fandango dancers and the flamenco orchestra, consisting of two accordions and a piano. Both dancers and musicians were children recruited from nearby farms, where bull-raising is the chief occupation.

As the astonishing meal unfolded, the dancers took turns in groups of four or six, doing their traditional dances. But the most popular, the one in which the customers join in and clap hands and shout, is simply the Portuguese version of rock 'n' roll in fancy dress.

American night club impresarios also might take note of both the menu and the entertainment at Salvaterra. Our meal started with the local Port, then chicken soup, followed by broiled swordfish and new potatoes. At this point I supposed lunch was over. Silly old me! Next came veal and ham topped with a fried egg and flanked by shoestring potatoes. And after that, believe it or not, arrived a course of chicken cooked in wine, served with more broiled potatoes and a salad. Then, of course, there were two desserts—rice custard followed by sliced oranges, with coffee and Portuguese brandy as the finale. Pitchers of local red and white wine were placed between every two plates. And the price of all this? Two dollars, American money.

For a visiting American housewife it was quite a day. Ole!

On the Fence

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Former Gov. John F. Simms, defeated in the last general election by Republican Edwin L. Mechem, recently announced he would spend most of his time mending fences.

Not political ones, he said. The cedar post and wire fences on his ranch near here need repair, he pointed out.

Actress Gets Baseball Role

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Since there's no rule against a girl playing in major league baseball, Nanette Fabray will pitch the season off to a good start this week—though strictly on television, you understand.

The occasion is next Tuesday (April 23) when Miss Fabray stars in a semimusical comedy entitled "A Man's Game" on Aluminum Hour (NBC - TV) at 9:30 p.m. (Eastern Standard).

Watching her in a rehearsal as she gives the old Joe E. Brown windup, you would easily vote her the comedienne most likely to succeed in television major league baseball this season.

"Leo Durocher has been coaching me," she said, "and I've been practicing until my arm is sore."

She dances as well as pitches in "A Man's Game," which concerns the sister of a boy who is scouted by the big leaguers as a catcher. When the sister pitches to him, the scouts decide they've found a great pitcher rather than the catcher they were hunting.

Miss Fabray, you remember, recently won an Emmy award for outstanding comedienne of the year based on her role as Sid Caesar's television wife.

Mansfield Slated To Host Big High School Track Test

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — America's largest independent inter scholastic track and field carnival will be slated here this weekend with the 26th renewal of the Mansfield High School Relays.

A large field of track enthusiasts from Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania is expected to vie for laurels in the annual cinder classic, directed by Harry Mehock, Mansfield track coach.

They'll be shooting for the title captured last year by Pontiac, Mich., the first non-Ohio school to win the event since its inception in 1927.

Some outstanding track athletes, including three state champions from Ohio, already are entered in the relays. Last year, a total of 98 schools and 1,287 boys competed.

The Ohio champs include Dave Mills, a 440-yard dash star from Lakewood; Norm Bass, of Springfield, winner of the 180-yard low hurdles; and Dan Sutherland, shot put ace from Berea.

Other top-notchers include John Sharp, Michigan's 440-yard titleholder from Flint Northern and defending relays' shot put champ Bob Reublin from Olmsted Falls.

Mills is back to defend his 440-yard crown but is expected to get stiff competition from Sharp, who finished third in the 1956 relays.

Bass, practically a one - man gang from Springfield, led the Clark County school to victory in its own invitational last Saturday.

He chalked up 17 points with victories in the low hurdles, the 440, a second place in the broad jump and a spot on Springfield's second-place mile relay team.

Bass is expected to make Springfield a title threat, despite the loss of high jumper Howard Nourse, who set the relays' record in that category last year with a leap of 6 feet, 6½ inches.

The '56 classic saw six new records established and one equalled. Host Mansfield, which has won the relays seven times, as has Cleveland East Tech, is not as strong as in past years.

East Tech has copped the event four times in the last six years and wound up third in the state meet last year. The Ohio title was shared by Akron North and Cleveland John Adams.

Springfield, which has won here twice, turned the trick last in 1953.

Pontiac has only high jumper Hudson Ray returning from last year's championship squad. Coach Wally Scholerke's Chiefs walked off with the title in their first appearance in the relays.

Action opens Friday afternoon with competition in the four-mile relay. A quartet from Mount Lebanon, Pa., raced the 16 laps in 18:57 last year, setting a new mark.

The program concludes Saturday with 17 events scheduled.

Additional Power For Sheriff Asked

COLUMBUS (AP) — Sheriff Tom Flagula of Ashtabula County testified Wednesday that sheriffs should have more power to deal with riots in connection with strikes, and other disorders.

He appeared at a hearing of the House Judiciary Committee on a bill proposing authority for a sheriff in local emergencies to call in deputies from other counties to help restore law and order.

He said the measure had the backing of the Ohio Sheriffs' Assn.

Flagula and other witnesses opposed another bill proposing general police powers for the Ohio Highway Patrol in emergencies declared by the governor.

Lancaster BIS Toll Tops 1000

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Division of Juvenile Research, Classification and Training, says the inmate population at Boys Industrial School in Lancaster has exceeded 1,000 for the first time in 20 years.

John R. Ferguson, division chief, said the increase has come "in spite of our attempts to accelerate the rate of release to parole status. In the past two years we have reduced the average length of stay from 10 to 7 months, but still the population continues to rise."

Ferguson said the Lancaster institution is operating at 160 per cent ofrated capacity which "creates a critical situation."

Dynamite Stolen

WARREN (AP) — Four 50-pound boxes containing 460 sticks of dynamite were stolen from a construction company storage shed on Ohio 82 east of here, the Trumbull County sheriff says.

Flagula and other witnesses opposed another bill proposing general police powers for the Ohio Highway Patrol in emergencies declared by the governor.

Lancaster BIS To!l Tops 1000

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Division of Juvenile Research, Classification and Training, says the inmate population at Boys Industrial School in Lancaster has exceeded 1,000 for the first time in 20 years.

John R. Ferguson, division chief, said the increase has come "in spite of our attempts to accelerate the rate of release to parole status. In the past two years we have reduced the average length of stay from 10 to 7 months, but still the population continues to rise."

Ferguson said the Lancaster institution is operating at 160 per cent ofrated capacity which "creates a critical situation."

Detroit Pilot Sees Trouble Still Piling Up

Tigers Lose First Two Games — Following Lousy Spring Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If things keep on like this, Detroit's Jack Tighe may remember his first year as a manager in the majors as the season he nursed a split lip from start to finish.

The stubby, 43-year-old coach turned manager is a worrier. He collected troubles all through spring training, when his "improved" Tigers were supposed to be picking up "a winning habit" but lost 19 of 29 exhibition games —11 of them one-run failures.

It was during that disappointing spring span that Tighe sat in the club's Lakeland, Fla., hotel headquarters dabbing at his lower lip with a handkerchief.

"The sun cracked it open," he explained. "And it hasn't healed. Everytime we get a runner to third, I bite the doggone thing open again."

Now, with two games gone in the American League season, Tighe's troubles are still with him, and so, presumably, is the cracked lip.

Twice the Tigers have lost to the Kansas City Athletics, and twice by one run. Opening day it was 2-1, Wednesday 5-4 in the only game played in the majors due to rainouts.

At the start, it looked like Tighe might be able to give his lip a chance Wednesday, when ex-Tiger Ned Garver walked two, hit a batsman and then gave up a three-run double to Ray Boone in the first inning. But the A's then had themselves a ball with Jim Bunning and Duke Maas, both leading candidates in Tighe's search for a No. 4 starting pitcher.

Bunning failed to last the first inning, giving up two runs. Then Maas was balted for solo homers by Hec Lopez and Harry Simpson in the third andgav e up the payoff run that h ed the A's into the AL lead in e fourth on Bob Cerv's triple and a single by Joe DeMaestri.

The Tigers scored once more in the fourth to chase Garver, but then managed only two more hits as Wally Burnette, a 27-year-old right-hander shoved out of the A's starting rotation by an ailing shoulder, shut them out for 5 1-3 innings.

Tighe planned to start Billy Hoeft (20-14) against Cleveland's Bob Lemon (20-14) as the Tigers staged their home opener before an expected 47,000 fans this afternoon.

Elsewhere in the American, which had no other games scheduled Wednesday, the second shift of home openers sent the New York Yankees and Johnny Kucks (18-9) to Boston against the Red Sox and Frank Sullivan (14-7) before a hoped for 30,000. Kansas City, with Alex Kellner (7-4), was at Chhcago to face the White Sox and Jack Harshman (15-11), with 25,000 expected to sit in. Washington set up the AL's first night game, with the Senators throwing Ted Abernathy (1-3) against Baltimore's Ray Moore (12-7) tonight.

In the National, were rain postponed St. Louis at Cincinnati and New York at Pittsburgh in the only games scheduled Wednesday, the Brooklyn Dodgers and Sal Maglie (13-5) were at home to Pittsburgh and Vern Law (8-16) with 15,000 expected. The Milwaukee Braves picked Lew Burdette (19-10) for their home opener against Cincinnati's Hal Jeffcoat (8-2) before an anticipated 40,000. Philadelphia and Curt Simmons (15-10) were at New York's Polo Grounds to face the Giants and Ruben Gomez (7-17) before an estimated 15,000. Chicago's Cubs, with Moe Drabowski (2-4), were at St. Louis to oppose the Cardinals and Murry Dickson (13-11) in a night game that was supposed to draw 20,000.

Hoover Retains Masters Crown

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Dick Hoover of Akron reigns as the American Bowling Congress champion for the second straight year.

Hoover, beaten once in the double-elimination tournament, came back strong Wednesday night to defeat Bill Lillard of Chicago in two consecutive matches to take the championship. He beat Lillard 910-768 in the first match, but cooled down to 853 in topping Lillard's 767 in the second.

Ohio Fishing Conditions Said 'Poor'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The fishing outlook for the weekend is "poor", the Ohio Division of Wildlife reported Wednesday.

The division's sectional breakdown:

Northwest—Practically all lakes and streams are roily or muddy and rather high. Lake St. Marys is high but some crappies are being taken. Oxbow Lake in Defiance County is clear and some largemouth bass are being caught.

Northeast — Most lakes and streams are roily and high, although a few fish of various species have been taken from some of the Portage Lakes, Deer Creek Reservoir andBerlin Reservoir.

East Central and Southeast — Some lakes, such as Clouse, Seneca, Atwood and Alma are clear and a few fish are being caught. Most of the streams, however, are muddy and high.

Central and Southern — A few scattered streams in Franklin, Fairfield, Jackson, Pike and Scioto counties are in good condition. Most of the streams in and around Franklin County are roily and high and the outlook is rather poor for the next few days.

Southwest—Although a number of the lakes and streams are in fair fishing condition, few fishermen have been out because of the inclement weather.

Crestline Loses Football Coach

TOLEDO (AP)—Lester C. Grace, head football coach at Crestline High School, will become the head grid pilot at Maumee Valley Country Day School next fall.

He also will be assistant basketball and baseball coach and will teach mathematics. He is a graduate of Defiance College.

Kluszewski's Condition Worries Reds

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The physical condition of Ted Kluszewski again was the No. 1 problem of the Cincinnati Redlegs as they came in here today to help the Milwaukee Braves, National League pennant favorites, open their home season.

Kluszewski, the top man in the Reds' power hitting, admittedly was in pain Tuesday when the Rhinelanders took a 13-4 walloping from the St. Louis Cardinals in their own home opener.

Wednesday it was disclosed that Manager Birdie Tebbetts has told "Klu" to tell when he is able to play and when he isn't.

The ailment is a hip injury that started last year.

The attitude taken by Tebbetts obviously was that of a fellow who had been through the mill for a long time as a player.

"I don't want the big guy doing a sub-par job," he said.

He added that he knew Kluszewski could help the Reds but, he continued:

"He has been too great a player to let him play when he is in pain. I am leaving it to the big fellow to say when he can play."

Tebbetts said other players have suffered similar ailments and recovered. He expressed belief Kluszewski also would come back.

Wednesday's game was called off because of rain.

Tigers Set To Entertain Indian '9'

DETROIT (AP)—The twice-beaten Detroit Tigers, favored by many to beat out the Cleveland Indians for the American League's runner-up spot this year, open their home season today against the Tribe and its ace righthander, Bob Lemon.

The Indians, who lost the opener in extra innings to Chicago southpaw Billy Pierce, 3-2, will again face a lefthander — Billy Hoeft, whose 20-14 record last season included a 2-3 performance against Cleveland. Lemon had a similar 2-3 balance sheet with the 1956 Tigers, and an identical 20-14 overall record.

Rain spoiled a workout Manager Kerby Farrell had planned for the Tribe in Cleveland Wednesday afternoon before the club entrained for Detroit.

Freshman Manager Farrell and the Tigers' rookie manager, Jack Tighe, will be matching strategy often during the remainder of April, for the Great Lakes neighbors play seven games—three here this week and four in Cleveland next week.

Farrell said he planned no changes in the lineup he used in Cleveland Tuesday. However, should Tighe switch pitchers and start Paul Foytack, a righthander, Hal Naragon would catch instead of Jim Hegan.

All major league teams are idle tomorrow, Good Friday.

Rod Hundley First Choice In Pro Pick

ST. LOUIS (AP) — All-America Rod Hundley of West Virginia starred again Wednesday — this time in an off-court role — as National Basketball Assn. owners jockeyed in the league's annual draft of college talent.

Cincinnati won first pick Wednesday and was expected to take 6-8 Charlie Tyra of the University of Louisville.

But the Cincinnati Royals didn't pick for themselves.

In a seven-player deal, the Royals selected "Hot Rodd" at the request of Minneapolis and turned him over to the Lakers, along with Art Spoelstra, Bob Burrow, Don Meinecke and Ed Fleming.

From Minneapolis, the Royals received veteran Clyde Lovelette and Jim Paxson.

Other first round choices:

New York picked second and selected Tyra. Minneapolis was third and decided on big Jim Krebbs, the stylish hoop shooting center of Southern Methodist.

St. Louis was fourth and took Win Filfong of Memphis State, named the most valuable player in the National Invitation Tourney.

New York, with the fifth choice, picked Brendan McCann of St. Bonaventure.

Picking sixth were the Philadelphia Warriors and they liked Len Rosenbluth, an All-America from North Carolina.

Giant George Bon Salle of the University of Illinois was the pick of Syracuse.

Last were the Boston Celtics and they went for a comparatively unknown player, Sam Jones of North Carolina College.

Dow, Cary Favored In Las Vegas Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Prospects of blustery winds were not the only hazard facing a picked field of 23 famous golfers today as play got under way in the $38,500 Tournament of Champions.

The course — the Desert Inn Country Club's 7,102-yard, par 36-36—72 layout stretched out over what once was a playground for rattlesnakes — is no pushover.

Among pre-shooting favorites are Cary Middlecoff, who has failed to win since he took the National Open in 1956, and Dow Finsterwald, a young pro from Athens, Ohio.

Spider Webb Nearly Loses

CHICAGO (AP) — Spider Webb, third ranking middleweight contender, discovered Wednesday night he is pretty much of a sucker for a left.

Unranked Randy Sandy of New York nearly left-hooked his way to one of the biggest ring upsets of the season.

Webb was awarded a unanimous 10-round decision in the Chicago Stadium televised scrap. The official result: Judge Harold Marovitz 49-44, judge John Bray 47-44 47-46.

Whitey Ford Says Pitchers Exchange Data on Hitters

NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey Ford, southpaw ace of the world champion New York Yankees, today disclosed in a first-person article in a national magazine that major league pitchers swap tips on batters in the current "rabbit ball" age "to keep from becoming as extinct as the dodo."

In a story titled "American Pitchers' Union" appearing in True magazine, Ford described a "grapevine system" in which pitchers exchange notes on the weaknesses of certain batters, both during the championship schedule and during the off season, as an answer to "hopped-up balls, pulled-in fences and lighter and livelier bats."

The stubby left-hander, whose 81-28 won-lost record gives him the best winning percentage of any active major league pitcher, noted the majors' antifraternization rule in the article—a "ridiculous rule" in his opinion—and said, "Maybe I'm destroying organized baseball by writing this article, but I sure don't think so."

Ford used Walt Dropo, now with the Chicago White Sox, as the prime example of how pitchers join forces to stop a hitter.

"When I came to the Yankees in July 1950," said Ford, "everybody was running around trying to find a way to stop Dropo (then with the Boston Red Sox). . . . He was leading the whole league in batting and runs batted in, and he was right up there in home runs . . .

". . . The pitchers from the seven other American League teams started comparing notes on their experiences with Dropo and exchanging tips on how to handle the big guy. By September the 'book' on Dropo had been pretty well set, and he was no longer feared. Dropo, we pitchers discovered, could hit any kind of pitch that was inside the strike zone. But—one pitcher quickly told another—he would chase balls that were just a little off the plate . . .

" . . . With this information, we all started throwing the 'book' at the big boy. Immediately, he stopped his hot streak. Up until then, he had been able to tie for the league leadership in runs batted in."

Ford, who won 19 games last season and led American League earned run averages, said the pitchers exchange notes each time they meet, passing along the latest word on hitters at each season series.

Checkup Changes WIBC Standings

DAYTON (AP)—Geneva Recreation of Dayton, without knocking down a single pin, has resumed the lead in team division No. 2 of the Women's International Bowling Congress here.

Geneva Recreation, with 2,322 was in second place behind the Cal Tawny Movers, also of Dayton, who led the division with 2,378. But division No. 2 is limited to teams with averages between 650 and 750, and officials, after rechecking averages, discovered Tawny's over 750.

As a result, Tawny was forced to move up into the championship division (750 or higher averages) where a 2,378 score is relatively low.

Detroit Pilot Sees Trouble Still Piling Up

Tigers Lose First Two Games — Following Lousy Spring Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If things keep on like this, Detroit's Jack Tighe may remember his first year as a manager in the majors as the season he nursed a split lip from start to finish.

The stubby, 43-year-old coach turned manager is a worrier. He collected troubles all through spring training, when his "improved" Tigers were supposed to be picking up "a winning habit" but lost 19 of 29 exhibition games —11 of them one-run failures.

It was during that disappointing spring span that Tighe sat in the club's Lakeland, Fla., hotel headquarters dabbing at his lower lip with a handkerchief.

"The sun cracked it open," he explained. "And it hasn't healed. Everytime we get a runner to third, I bite the doggone thing open again."

Now, with two games gone in the American League season, Tighe's troubles are still with him, and so, presumably, is the cracked lip.

Twice the Tigers have lost to the Kansas City Athletics, and twice by one run. Opening day it was 2-1, Wednesday 5-4 in the only game played in the majors due to rainouts.

At the start, it looked like Tighe might be able to give his lip a chance Wednesday, when ex-Tiger Ned Garver walked two, hit a batsman and then gave up a three-run double to Ray Boone in the first inning. But the A's then had themselves a ball with Jim Bunning and Duke Maas, both leading candidates in Tighe's search for a No. 4 starting pitcher.

Bunning failed to last the first inning, giving up two runs. Then Maas was balted for solo homers by Hec Lopez and Harry Simpson in the third andgav e up the payoff run that he ed the A's into the AL lead in e fourth on Bob Cerv's triple and a single by Joe DeMaestri.

The Tigers scored once more in the fourth to chase Garver, but then managed only two more hits as Wally Burnette, a 27-year-old right-hander shoved out of the A's starting rotation by an ailing shoulder, shut them out for 5 1-3 innings.

Tighe planned to start Billy Hoeft (20-14) against Cleveland's Bob Lemon (20-14) as the Tigers staged their home opener before an expected 47,000 fans this afternoon.

Elsewhere in the American, which had no other games schedulied Wednesday, the second shift of home openers sent the New York Yankees and Johnny Kucks (18-9) to Boston against the Red Sox and Frank Sullivan (14-7) before a hoped for 30,000. Kansas City, with Alex Kellner (7-4), was at Chhcago to face the White Sox and Jack Harshman (15-11), with 25,000 expected to sit in. Washington set up the AL's first night game, with the Senators throwing Ted Abernathy (1-3) against Baltimore's Ray Moore (12-7) tonight.

In the National, were rain postponed St. Louis at Cincinnati and New York at Pittsburgh in the only games scheduled Wednesday, the Brooklyn Dodgers and Sal Maglie (13-5) were at home to Pittsburgh and Vern Law (8-16) with 15,000 expected. The Milwaukee Braves picked Lew Burdette (19-10) for their home opener against Cincinnati's Hal Jeffcoat (8-2) before an anticipated 40,000. Philadelphia and Curt Simmons (15-10) were at New York's Polo Grounds to face the Giants and Ruben Gomez (7-17) before an estimated 15,000. Chicago's Cubs, with Moe Drabowski (2-4), were at St. Louis to oppose the Cardinals and Murry Dickson (13-11) in a night game that was supposed to draw 20,000.

Hoover Retains Masters Crown

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Dick Hoover of Akron reigns as the American Bowling Congress champion for the second straight year.

Hoover, beaten once in the double-elimination tournament, came back strong Wednesday night to defeat Bill Lillard of Chicago in two consecutive matches to take the championship. He beat Lillard 910-768 in the first match, but cooled down to 853 in topping Lillard's 767 in the second.

Ohio Fishing Conditions Said 'Poor'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The fishing outlook for the weekend is "poor", the Ohio Division of Wildlife reported Wednesday.

The division's sectional breakdown:

Northwest—Practically all lakes and streams are roily or muddy and rather high. Lake St. Marys is high but some crappies are being taken. Oxbow Lake in Defiance County is clear and some largemouth bass are being caught.

Northeast — Most lakes and streams are roily and high, although a few fish of various species have been taken from some of the Portage Lakes, Deer Creek Reservoir andBerlin Reservoir.

East Central and Southeast — Some lakes, such as Clouse, Seneca, Atwood and Alma are clear and a few fish are being caught. Most of the streams, however, are muddy and high.

Central and Southern — A few scattered streams in Franklin, Fairfield, Jackson, Pike and Scioto counties are in good condition. Most of the streams in and around Franklin County are roily and high and the outlook is rather poor for the next few days.

Southwest—Although a number of the lakes and streams are in fair fishing condition, few fishermen have been out because of the inclement weather.

Crestline Loses Football Coach

TOLEDO (AP)—Lester C. Grace, head football coach at Crestline High School, will become the head grid pilot at Maumee Valley Country Day School next fall.

He also will be assistant basketball and baseball coach and will teach mathematics. He is a graduate of Defiance College.

Ridley To Move To Wadsworth

TIFFIN (AP)—John Ridley, head basketball coach at nearby Old Fort High School the last three years, has resigned the post to accept a similar osition at Wadsworth High School.

Ridley, a native of Barberton, has been coaching eight years. He is a graduate of Ohio Northern.

Kluszewski's Condition Worries Reds

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The physical condition of Ted Kluszewski again was the No. 1 problem of the Cincinnati Redlegs as they came in here today to help the Milwaukee Braves, National League pennant favorites, open their home season.

Kluszewski, the top man in the Reds' power hitting, admittedly was in pain Tuesday when the Rhinelanders took a 13-4 walloping from the St. Louis Cardinals in their own home opener.

Wednesday it was disclosed that Manager Birdie Tebbetts has told "Klu" to tell when he is able to play and when he isn't.

The ailment is a hip injury that started last year.

The attitude taken by Tebbetts obviously was that of a fellow who had been through the mill for a long time as a player.

"I don't want the big guy doing a sub-par job," he said.

He added that he knew Kluszewski could help the Reds but, he continued:

"He has been too great a player to let him play when he is in pain. I am leaving it to the big fellow to say when he can play."

Tebbetts said other players have suffered similar ailments and recovered. He expressed belief Kluszewski also would come back.

Wednesday's game was called off because of rain.

Tigers Set To Entertain Indian '9'

DETROIT (AP)—The twice-beaten Detroit Tigers, favored by many to beat out the Cleveland Indians for the American League's runner-up spot this year, open their home season today against the Tribe and its ace righthander, Bob Lemon.

The Indians, who lost the opener in extra innings to Chicago southpaw Billy Pierce, 3-2, will again face a lefthander — Billy Hoeft, whose 20-14 record last season included a 2-3 performance against Cleveland. Lemon had a similar 2-3 balance sheet with the 1956 Tigers, and an identical 20-14 overall record.

Rain spoiled a workout Manager Kerby Farrell had planned for the Tribe in Cleveland Wednesday afternoon before the club entrained for Detroit.

Freshman Manager Farrell and the Tigers' rookie manager, Jack Tighe, will be matching strategy often during the remainder of April, for the Great Lakes neighbors play seven games—three here this week and four in Cleveland next week.

Farrell said he planned no changes in the lineup he used in Cleveland Tuesday. However, should Tighe switch pitchers and start Paul Foytack, a righthander, Hal Naragon would catch instead of Jim Hegan.

All major league teams are idle tomorrow, Good Friday.

Rod Hundley First Choice In Pro Pick

ST. LOUIS (AP) — All-America Rod Hundley of West Virginia starred again Wednesday — this time in an off-court role — as National Basketball Assn. owners jockeyed in the league's annual draft of college talent.

Cincinnati won first pick Wednesday and was expected to take 6-8 Charlie Tyra of the University of Louisville.

But the Cincinnati Royals didn't pick for themselves.

In a seven-player deal, the Royals selected "Hot Rodd" at the request of Minneapolis and turned him over to the Lakers, along with Art Spoelstra, Bob Burrow, Don Meinecke and Ed Fleming.

From Minneapolis, the Royals received veteran Clyde Lovelette and Jim Paxson.

Other first round choices:

New York picked second and selected Tyra. Minneapolis was third and decided on big Jim Krebbs, the stylish hoop shooting center of Southern Methodist.

St. Louis was fourth and took Win Filfong of Memphis State, named the most valuable player in the National Invitation Tourney.

New York, with the fifth choice, picked Brendan McCann of St. Bonaventure.

Picking sixth were the Philadelphia Warriors and they liked Len Rosenbluth, an All-America from North Carolina.

Giant George Bon Salle of the University of Illinois was the pick of Syracuse.

Last were the Boston Celtics and they went for a comparatively unknown player, Sam Jones of North Carolina College.

Dow, Cary Favored In Las Vegas Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Prospects of blustery winds were not the only hazard facing a picked field of 23 famous golfers today as play got under way in the $38,500 Tournament of Champions.

The course — the Desert Inn Country Club's 7,102-yard, par 36-36—72 layout stretched out over what once was a playground for rattlesnakes — is no pushover.

Among pre - shooting favorites are Cary Middlecoff, who has failed to win since he took the National Open in 1956, and Dow Finsterwald, a young pro from Athens, Ohio.

Spider Webb Nearly Loses

CHICAGO (AP) — Spider Webb, third ranking middleweight contender, discovered Wednesday night he is pretty much of a sucker for a left.

Unranked Randy Sandy of New York nearly left-hooked his way to one of the biggest ring upsets of the season.

Webb was awarded a unanimous 10-round decision in the Chicago Stadium televised scrap. The official result: Judge Harold Marovitz 49-44, judge John Bray 47-44 47-46.

Whitey Ford Says Pitchers Exchange Data on Hitters

NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey Ford, southpaw ace of the world champion New York Yankees, tod a y disclosed in a first-person article in a national magazine that major league pitchers swap tips on batters in the current "rabbit ball" age "to keep from becoming as extinct as the dodo."

In a story titled "American Pitchers' Union" appearing in True magazine, Ford described a "grapevine system" in which pitchers exchange notes on the weaknesses of certain batters, both during the championship schedule and during the off season, as an answer to "hopped-up balls, pulled-in fences and lighter and livelier bats."

The stubby left-hander, whose 81-28 won-lost record gives him the best winning percentage of any active major league pitcher, noted the majors' antifraternization rule in the article—a "ridiculous rule" in his opinion—and said, "Maybe I'm destroying organized baseball by writing this article, but I sure don't think so."

Ford used Walt Dropo, now with the Chicago White Sox, as the prime example of how pitchers join forces to stop a hitter.

"When I came to the Yankees in July 1950," said Ford, "everybody was running around trying to find a way to stop Dropo (then with the Boston Red Sox). . . . He was leading the whole league in batting and runs batted in, and he was right up there in home runs . . .

". . . The pitchers from the seven other American League teams started comparing notes on their experiences with Dropo and exchanging tips on how to handle the big guy. By September the 'book' on Dropo had been pretty well set, and he was no longer feared. Dropo, we pitchers discovered, could hit any kind of pitch that was inside the strike zone. But—one pitcher quickly told another—he would chase balls that were just a little off the plate . . .

". . . With this information, we all started throwing the 'book' at the big boy. Immediately, he stopped his hot streak. Up until then, he had been able to tie for the league leadership in runs batted in."

Ford, who won 19 games last season and led American League earned run averages, said the pitchers exchange notes each time they meet, passing along the latest word on hitters at each season series.

Checkup Changes WIBC Standings

DAYTON (AP)—Geneva Recreation of Dayton, without knocking down a single pin, has resumed the lead in team division No. 2 of the Women's International Bowling Congress here.

Geneva Recreation, with 2,322 was in second place behind the Cal Tawny Movers, also of Dayton, who led the division with 2,378. But division No. 2 is limited to teams with averages between 650 and 750, and officials, after rechecking averages, discovered Tawny's over 750.

As a result, Tawny was forced to move up into the championship division (750 or higher averages) where a 2,378 score is relatively low.

Party-Going Is Obligation For Many in Film Colony

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Like the ads say, there are imitations but only one is genuine. That is how old-timers in Hollywood, with dreamy eyes, allude to the parties "they used to give at Pickfair."

Many Movieland hostesses have tried, without lasting or notable success, to recapture the aura of splendor that surrounded the parties that Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks gave at their hilltop home. A screen credit, in the old days, was less important than a bid to Pickfair. If you were on the "A" list you might see the inside of Pickfair two or three times a month.

Mary and Doug had a special penchant for royalty. There was one soiree, in honor of the duchess of something, whose formality hit a new high for filmland. Everyone who amounted to anything was there. There was a receiving line, a polite punch, delicate hors d'oeuvres and soft music. It was a little like a movie in a setting of overdone French — drawing room with the gilt, the brocades, the hand painted piano. But unlike a movie, nothing dramatic happened.

One thing to be said for Pickfair parties, they never became brawls. Mary's innate good taste prevent that.

But Pickfair wasn't the only place for parties.

I think of one at Lew Cody's. It was after a Fifi D'Orsay wedding. Fifi, in her impetuous way, called her friends to say there'd be a reception at Lew's house. Lew was a good host always — there'd be plenty of the essentials for a slam-bang party in his refrigerator, his kitchen, his rumpus room. Scores of well-wishers showed up.

The party was in high gear when Lew — his driveway was blocked and he parked his car on the next street—came home. Fifi had neglected to tell Lew she was taking over his house. But Lew loved a party so much that he made a few phone calls and shortly the crowd was augmented by Lew's party-loving friends. Lew told me later the reception lasted a couple of days.

Lew and his pal Buster Keaton once acquired a large bus and fitted it out like one of today's modern trailers. They called it a land yacht and, verily, it was. One day when Victor McLaglen was celebrating something, and had about 300 at his estate, Fairhaven, Lew and Buster drove their yacht right up into the formal garden abaft the swimming pool. Buster, who was the admiral of his one-yacht fleet, always wore an appropriate uniform complete with epaulets and yards of gold braid when on tour. The party was wet enough, but Buster made it more so: he dived into the pool in full reglia.

Tomorrow: Some characters who made life interesting.

Cincy Arsonist Gets Sentence

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arthur Lee Redmon, convicted of manslaughter in starting a fire in which eight persons were killed, Wednesday was sentenced to 1-20 years' imprisonment.

Criminal Court Judge Carson Loy said he would recommend that the parole board not consider an early parole.

Redmon, 29, was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of Terry Clark, 5, one of two children of Mrs. Johnetta Clark, 20, who lost their lives in the tenement fire.

The fire followed an argument between Redmon and Mrs. Clark, whom he had been courting.

Boy's Pal 'Shares' Hospital Experince

IRONTON (AP) — Eight-year-old Tommy Bratton balked at plans for a tonsillectomy, but agreed when a buddy promised to share the experience.

Tommy and 9-year - old Larry Williams, neighbors in Russell, Ky., and classmates third grade, went to the hospital together.

Dr. J. C. Boggs performed the operation on Tommy, and both boys were home a day later.

Larry is a real buddy. He went through all the steps of the hospitalization except the actual tonsillectomy—he had had his tonsils removed a long time ago.

Independent Phone Business Booming

COLUMBUI (AP)—The nation's independent telephone companies sees in the continuing growth of suburbs a chance for their own unprecedented expansion.

The move to the suburbs, with the trend by industries to spread out, assures "the continued growth of the little firms," says Donald C. Power, president of the United States Independent Telephone Assn. The independents now have nine million telephones. But, he added, they are still far behind the giant Bell system with its 51 million phones.

He said the nation's 4,700 independent firms last year took in $648 million in revenue.

Lockjaw Kills Minster Boy, 16

MINSTER (AP) — Robert Albers, 16, a freshman at Minster High School, died of lockjaw in Our Lady of Mercy Hospital at nearby Coldwater Wednesday.

He was admitted to the hospital Sunday after a portable saw slipped and cut a long wound in his foot 11 days ago.

Party-Going Is Obligation For Many in Film Colony

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Like the ads say, there are imitations but only one is genuine. That is how old-timers in Hollywood, with dreamy eyes, allude to the parties "they used to give at Pickfair."

Many Movieland hostesses have tried, without lasting or notable success, to recapture the aura of splendor that surrounded the parties that Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks gave at their hilltop home. A screen credit, in the old days, was less important than a bid to Pickfair. If you were on the "A" list you might see the inside of Pickfair two or three times a month.

Mary and Doug had a special penchant for royalty. There was one soiree, in honor of the duchess of something, whose formality hit a new high for filmland. Everyone who amounted to anything was there. There was a receiving line, a polite punch, delicate hors d'oeuvres and soft music. It was a little like a movie in a setting of overdone French — drawing room with the gilt, the brocades, the hand painted piano. But unlike a movie, nothing dramatic happened.

One thing to be said for Pickfair parties, they never became brawls. Mary's innate good taste prevent that.

But Pickfair wasn't the only place for parties.

I think of one at Lew Cody's. It was after a Fifi D'Orsay wedding. Fifi, in her impetuous way, called her friends to say there'd be a reception at Lew's house. Lew was a good host always — there'd be plenty of the essentials for a slam-bang party in his refrigerator, his kitchen, his rumpus room. Scores of well-wishers showed up.

The party was in high gear when Lew — his driveway was blocked and he parked his car on the next street—came home. Fifi had neglected to tell Lew she was taking over his house. But Lew loved a party so much that he made a few phone calls and shortly the crowd was augmented by Lew's party-loving friends. Lew told me later the reception lasted a couple of days.

Lew and his pal Buster Keaton once acquired a large bus and fitted it out like one of today's modern trailers. They called it a land yacht and, verily, it was. One day when Victor McLaglen was celebrating something, and had about 300 at his estate, Fairhaven, Lew and Buster drove their yacht right up into the formal garden abaft the swimming pool. Buster, who was the admiral of his one-yacht fleet, always wore an appropriate uniform complete with epaulets and yards of gold braid when on tour. The party was wet enough, but Buster made it more so: he dived into the pool in full reglia.

Cincy Arsonist Gets Sentence

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arthur Lee Redmon, convicted of manslaughter in starting a fire in which eight persons were killed, Wednesday was sentenced to 1-20 years' imprisonment.

Criminal Court Judge Carson Love said he would recommend that the parole board not consider an early parole.

Redmon, 29, was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of Terry Clark, 5, one of two children of Mrs. Johnetta Clark, 20, who lost their lives in the tenement fire.

The fire followed an argument between Redmon and Mrs. Clark, whom he had been courting.

Boy's Pal 'Shares' Hospital Experince

IRONTON (AP) — Eight-year-old Tommy Bratton balked at plans for a tonsillectomy, but agreed when a buddy promised to share the experience.

Tommy and 9-year - old Larry Williams, neighbors in Russell, Ky., and classmates third grade, went to the hospital together.

Dr. J. C. Boggs performed the operation on Tommy, and both boys were home a day later.

Larry is a real buddy. He went through all the steps of the hospitalization except the actual tonsillectomy—he had had his tonsils removed a long time ago.

Independent Phone Business Booming

COLUMBUS (AP)—The nation's independent telephone companies sees in the continuing growth of suburbs a chance for their own unprecedented expansion.

The move to the suburbs, with the trend by industries to spread out, assures "the continued growth of the little firms," says Donald C. Power, president of the United States Independent Telephone Assn. The independents now have nine million telephones. But, he added, they are still far behind the giant Bell system with its 51 million phones.

He said the nation's 4,700 independent firms last year took in $648 million in revenue.

Lockjaw Kills Minster Boy, 16

MINSTER (AP) — Robert Albers, 16, a freshman at Minster High School, died of lockjaw in Our Lady of Mercy Hospital at nearby Coldwater Wednesday.

He was admitted to the hospital Sunday after a portable saw slipped and cut a long wound in his foot 11 days ago.

Miami Trace Board Meets

Bus Bids, Teacher Contracts Reviewed

The Miami Trace Board of Education opened bus bids and discussed teacher contracts at a meeting in Wilson School Wednesday night.

Written bids on three new buses, to replace equipment being retired, were received from R. Brandenburg Motor Sales, Denton's Carroll Halliday Inc. and Sterling Motors, the latter of Mt. Sterling.

Also attending the meeting were representatives of several bus body manufacturers.

The board agreed to take additional time to compare the bids. A contract probably will be awarded at a special meeting.

The board recommended reemployment of all teachers in the Miami Trace system with two exceptions.

A $47,613.66 payroll for April was approved, along with April bills totaling $9,888.20.

• • •

EDWARD J. CUNNINGHAM, a member of the Fayette County Citizens Committee whose support of House Bill No. 513 in a legislative hearing at Columbus brought a letter of protest from the Miami Trace Board to the Citizens Committee, appeared before the board to present a personal reply.

The Miami Trace letter had accused Cunningham of inconsistency in supporting H. B. 513 (A bill introduced by Rep. Virgil Perrill abolishing county school districts and administration in counties having only one local school district) on grounds that passage of the bill would invalidate the present Citizens Committee.

Cunningham, in his reply, stated that his support of the bill in no way contradicted his previous stand for a Citizens Committee since, he said, his support was conditioned on assurance given him by Rep. Perrill that the bill would specifically retain the Citizens Committee.

• • •

CUNNINGHAM said he believes Citizens Committees to be of tremendous value to their communities "if they can function freely and openly in any unbiased, cooperative effort to ascertain all the facts and report them to the people."

Other visitors at the meeting were Grove Davis, David Carr, William McFadden, James H. McWilliams, Richard Babb, Mrs. Jean Rhoad and Mrs. Cunningham and son, Michael.

Cantata To Be Given At Church in Sedalia

An Easter cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," is to be presented at the 6 a. m. sunrise service at the PresbyterianChurch in Sedalia Sunday. Solo parts will be taken by Miss Charlotte Moats, Mrs. Reynold Slaughter Jr., Raymond Corliss and Neil Sprang, director of the cantata. Mrs. Kenneth Dorn will be the organist.

Breakfast will be served in the school by the Geneva Fellowship Class and the regular worship service will be held at 10 a. m. Mr. David Nawyn will deliver the sermon.

Holy Communion and baptism will be Friday at 8 p. m. by the Rev. Frank Baldwin of London.

Deaths, Funerals

Rev. Charles L. Thomas

The Rev. Charles Lewis Thomas, 93, a former minister at Bloomingburg and New Holland Methodist churches, died at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday at his residence near East Ringgold in Pickaway County. He had been in failing health for some time.

Born in Des Moines, Iowa, he was raised in the Lilly Chapel community near West Jefferson. His first wife, Anna Belle Miller, died in 1913, while his second wife, Laura Strider, whom he married in 1918, survives.

Children who survive him are Miss Margaret Thomas, Kingston; Mrs. Lois Jones, Kingston; Col. David H. Thomas, Dallas, Tex.; Edward H. Thomas, Phoenix, Ariz; and Philip, at home. He also leaves one grandchild and four great-grandchildren.

Rev. Thomas retired in 1929 after 35 years of active ministry in the Chillicothe Methodist District.

Before entering the ministry, he taught school, and was the first high school teacher in Ross County. He was a Mason with his home chapter in New Holland and had been granted a life membership in the Grange in Circleville.

Services will be held at 1 p. m. Monday in the Circleville Methodist Church. The Rev. Charles Reed, assisted by the Rev. Sam Elsea, both of Circleville, will officiate. Burial will be in Reber Hill Cemetery, Pickaway County, by the Streuve Funeral Home, Greenfield.

Friends may call at the late residence Friday afternoon or at the Methodist Church in Circleville between 11 and 1 p. m. Monday.

Plane Crash Fatal To Former Resident

Thurman Riley, 36, a native of Fayette County, was killed last Sunday when the sight-seeing plane he was piloting out of a Florida resort hit a high tension wire and crashed.

Relatives here, who just received word of his death, said the brief messages carried few details. They said the reports indicated that his only passenger, a bride of three days, also met death in the crash, while her husband watched from the ground. Her name was not given.

Riley, who continued to fly after the war, went to Florida after his separation from the Air Force to pilot the sight-seeing plane, relatives said. They were not certain where he made his home or exactly where the fatalcrash occurred.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Riley, who lived in Jasper Twp., Fayette County, for many years, now live near Hillsboro.

Mrs. Riley died about a year ago, relatives said, but he is survived by two daughters and a step-son. He also leaves two brothers, Donald and James of Hillsboro. Mrs. Calvin Johnson, city, is a cousin and Mrs. Ruth Riley Penwell, city, is an aunt.

Services are to be held in the Hetrick Funeral Home in Dayton at 1:30 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in the Sugar Creek Methodist Cemetery on the Palmer Rd. about 3 p. m.

Xenia Woman Hurt In Collision Here

A Xenia woman was slightly injured in a two-car collision at the corner of Temple and Water Sts. about 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Miss Billie L. King, 27, of Xenia, was treated at Green County Memorial Hospital for shoulder bruises received when the car she was driving was involved in a collision with one driven by Harold J. Gleespen, 51, of Prospect.

Police said Gleespen was going west on Temple St. when Miss King, going south on Water St., started to turn east onto Temple. The front end of Gleespen's auto collided with the side of the King car.

The left front fender, the headlight and the parking light on the Gleespen auto were damaged, while damage to Miss King's car was to the left front fender and front door.

Gleespen was charged with failure to yield.

Route 35 Meeting Set at Chillicothe

William Stoughton, general manager of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, and Walter Morrow, chairman of the C. of C. Highway committee, will attend a meeting in Chillicothe Thursday night at which future plans for U. S. Route 35 will be discussed.

Representatives of the Ohio Department of Highways and Jackson and Chillicothe civic leaders also will attend the session.

Purpose of the meeting will be a discussion of plans for the district organization of groups and individuals of various communities on Route 35 interested in the improvement of that highway.

While not as large in scope, it is expected that this organization will follow the pattern adopted by members of the George Washington Highway Improvement Association, which is striving for improvements on Route 50, both east and west of Chillicothe.

If you think it's easy to serve one hundred thousand meals
Try it some time and then you will better understand why
Our staff does not bat exactly 100% perfect all the time
Remember in the big leagues even the best bat under 400%
HOTEL WASHINGTON
When we count the large number of our repeat customers, you would agree our staff does pretty good.
